

ORIGINS AND AUTHORITY OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE (I.R.S.)

Last revised: 6/3/2011

NOT LAWFULLY ESTABLISHED (FRAUD)

DEDICATION

"A tax, in the general understanding of the term and as used in the constitution, signifies an exaction for the support of the government. The word has never thought to connote the expropriation of money from one group for the benefit of another."
U.S. v. Butler, [297 U.S. 1 (1936)]

"To lay with one hand the power of government on the property of the citizen, and with the other to bestow it on favored individuals.. is none the less robbery because it is done under the forms of law and is called taxation. This is not legislation. It is a decree under legislative forms."

[Loan Association v. Topeka, 20 Wall. 655 (1874)]

"The present assault upon [THEFT of] capital [by a corrupted socialist government] is but the beginning. It will be but the stepping stone to others larger and more sweeping, until our political contest will become war of the poor against the rich; a war of growing intensity and bitterness. [. . .]

The legislation, in the discrimination it makes, is class legislation. Whenever a distinction is made in the burdens a law imposes or in the benefits it confers on any citizens by reason of their birth, or wealth, or religion, it is class legislation, and leads inevitably to oppression and abuses, and to general unrest and disturbance in society."

Pollock v. Farmers Loan and Trust, [157 U.S. 429 (1895)]

"Then tax collectors also came to be baptized, and said to him [Jesus/God], 'Teacher, what shall we do?'
And he said to them, 'Collect no more than what is appointed for you.'"
[Luke 3:12-13, Bible, NKJV]

"Ineptocracy (in-ep-toe'-ra-cy) - a system of government where the least capable to lead are elected by the least capable of producing, and where the members of society least likely to sustain themselves or succeed, are rewarded with goods and services paid for by the confiscated wealth of a diminishing number of producers.

Synonyms: Electile dysfunction."

1. Introduction

The IRS falsely claims that "Congress" gave it (statutory) authority to collect federal income taxes. See the following for one example:

IRS Publication 2105 (Rev. 10-2003) Cat. No. 23871N

We will conclusively prove in this document with credible, incontrovertible evidence published by the United States Government that:

1. Such claims are false.
2. The IRS has no statutory authority to exist.
3. The IRS is not an "agency" within the United States government.
4. The courts are lying to the public about the origin of the IRS.
5. The name "Internal Revenue Service" has never been authorized in any enactment of Congress.
6. The Dept. of Justice has no delegated authority to prosecute tax crimes on behalf of the IRS.
7. The IRS has no lawful authority to enforce any provision of Internal Revenue Code Subtitle A within states of the Union.

As you read this document, especially the excerpts from the U.S. Supreme Court which are contained at the end, please bear in mind that the U.S.A. Constitution is the Supreme Law of the Land and whenever you think a federal, state, or local government Official has violated your Constitutional Rights, especially your Constitutional Right to sell your labor and to earn a living, always bear in mind the wisdom contained in the following quote, which appeared in the Congressional record – Senate, in September 2004, to wit:

"...This Constitution is the foundation upon which each stone of our government is laid. It is our bedrock. It touches every day of your lives...This Constitution touches everyday, every hour, every minute of your lives. Practically everything you do is made possible by or is guaranteed or is protected by this Constitution. It is the prism through which each act of our Government should be examined and judged..."
[Congressional Record, Senate, Sept 20, 2004]

Try never to forget the foregoing admonition because if you do forget it, you put your life and your liberty, and the lives and liberties of your family and loved ones, at great risk.

Now, let us begin our fascinating journey.

2. Government Organization

The "system" of the United States is one of taxation and can appear to be more than complicated especially to those you perceive to know or should know how this "system" functions or works because most of those who you pay to know it actually no nothing about the actual system. They just know how to do the thing they are selling to you and go to the next client.

There is a reason why Attorneys will not make any system changing representations against the Department of Justice's promotion of the system, and its enforcement, and that is because the license is worth more to the Attorneys than any single client's money.

You must start somewhere. Usually the starting point is what gave rise to your situation which caused you to encounter the "system" in the first place. I will use the IRS as an example since everyone knows that part of the system exists at least in theory.

For the purpose of this email let's presuppose you either did not file ("deliver") a tax form containing the information sought by the IRS's "information collection request" "form" or you failed to pay ("deliver") the correct amount the information collected by the IRS suggests you actually owed (W-2 or 1099).

1 To start, you must know who it is that you are dealing with. Let's call this the "background check". The IRS is an
2 "agency" but who created it? The Supreme Court and every Court to ever address this issue held the IRS was created by
3 the Secretary of the Treasury ("SOTT") pursuant to the SOTT's power at Title 26, Sec. 7805 to administer and enforce by 4 regulation the internal revenue laws. This means the IRS is an "bureau" created by "regulations" and not an agency
5 created by Congress.

6 For example, the Department of the Treasury is created at Title 31, Sec. 301. The Department of Justice is created at 7 Title 28, Sec. 501. Both of these "departments" are "at the seat of Government." The seat of United States Government
8 codified to be in the District of Columbia at Title 4, Sec. 71.

9 DOESN'T IT FEEL GOOD TO KNOW AS MUCH ABOUT THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT AS THERE IS TO 10 KNOW? This U.S. Government cannot act outside D.C. through its "offices" and "officers" except if "expressly 11 provided by law." See Title 4, Sec. 72.

12 2.1 History of the Department of the Treasury¹

13 This story of the Department of Treasury starts around the 1830 era. The States and United States were getting ripped off
14 by the banks where they deposited their money. This was called in history the great banking swindles. In order to protect 15 themselves these, corporations, States and United States, decided to create their own Independent Treasury in 1840 under 16 Van Buren's message, 5 Sept. 1837. However it was bitterly opposed by Henry Clay and Daniel Webster who were Whigs,
17 a party devoted to Nationalist tendencies. The independent treasury bill, also known as the subtresury or divorce bill, was 18 introduced in the Senate where it passed. It incorporated the legal-tender amendment. This proviso called for a gradual 19 reduction in the acceptance of notes of specie-paying banks in payment of government dues until 1841, when all payment
20 should be made in legal tender. Oh, Oh, the governments are now violating their agreement back in 1783 with the Crown
21 and violated the obligation in the Constitution that only the PRIVATE banks could issue paper money which were 22 instituted as the first bank of the United States, which was run by foreign controlled stockholders of the British realm.
23 These foreign stockholders are listed in the American Almanac and Repository for the year 1833, which was obtained from 24 the University of Lewisburg. John Marshall, the Chief Justice of the supreme court is listed as having 3878 shares and the 25 second largest foreign stockholder. He ruled against the constitution when ruling for the bank in the well known McCulloch
26 case in Maryland. Conflict of interest runs rampant in "government" now and then doesn't it? Because the hard money
27 would show the inflation of paper money, it had to be stopped to support the federal reserve note by the Crown operating 28 through the internationalist bankers.

29 The Independent Treasury had a Secretary of Treasury and was named "the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States."
30 Yes, he really existed because there was an honest to goodness United States Treasury. Enter now the problem solvers, the 31 King in drag. They proceeded to abolish the United States Treasury in the year 1921 by the Act of 1920². Now the fraud
32 will be shown for what it is by, how do you say it; watch, for my tongue does not leave my mouth as it forks both ways of 33 the white man, or something to that effect. In other words we are not dealing with people that we think we should be 34 dealing with in the taxation scam. We are scraping the top portion to get you started. So here we go down the rabbit trail.

35 Under Independent Treasury, 31 U.S.C. §3322:

36 "Historical and Revision notes; In subsection (a), before clause (1), the words 'Secretary of the 37 Treasury' are substituted for 'Treasurer of the United States' because the of the source
38 provisions restated in section 321 (c) of the revised title. . . . The words 'treasurer or' are 39 omitted as obsolete because of the 1st-4th pars. under the heading 'Independent Treasury' in 40 the Act of May 29, 1920 (ch. 214, 41 Stat. 654; also see 31 U.S.C. §3301 Historical Notes. "

41 Ok, let us look at 41 Stat 654, which says,

42 "Act May 29, 1920, abolished office of Assistant Treasurer at specified cities."

² Act of May 29, 1920, (ch. 214 41 Stat 254).

1 41 Stat. 654 is the source for 12 U.S.C. §121. Now let us look at "section 321 (c)" in 41 Stat. Just as one would guess, that
2 has been involved with the IRS over many years, alcohol.

3 41 Stat 321, source for 27 U.S.C. Secs 71 to 90a. Omitted. These sections were omitted by the codification into the Internal 4 Revenue Code of 1939.

5 We will refer only two of the sections in the above range of omitted statutes that were codified into the I.R.C. of 1939:

- 6 1. Section 81,³, related to withdrawal of alcohol produced at any industrial alcohol plant tax-free for denaturing, for use
7 by any scientific university, for scientific research by any laboratory, or for use in any hospital or sanitarium, was 8 incorporated in sections 3108 (a) and 3124 (a) of Internal Revenue Code of 1939.
- 9 2. Section 88,⁴ related to applicability of administrative provisions of internal revenue laws, was incorporated in section
10 3122 of Internal Revenue Code of 1939.

11 So let us look at "47 Stat. 1957". In Section 81, it states;

12 "49 Stat. 1957, related to extension of industrial alcohol laws to Puerto Rico and Virgin
13 Islands, was incorporated in section 3123 of Internal Revenue Code of 1939."

14 Now back to the Act of May 29, 1920, (ch. 214, 41 Stat 254), which is the source law for 31 U.S.C. §1310. The Historical 15 and Revision Notes under 31 U.S.C. §1310 state:

16 "The word `official' is substituted for `officer' for consistency in the revised title. In clause (1), 17 the word `Treasury' is substituted for `Treasurer of the United States' because of the source
18 provisions restated in section 321 of the revised title and Department of the Treasury Order 229
19 of January 14, 1974 (39 F.R. 2280). The words `or of an assistant treasurer' in section 1 of the 20 Act of June 23, 1874, are omitted as superseded by section 1 (1st par. under heading 21 `Independent Treasury') of the Act of May 29, 1920 (ch. 214, 41 Stat 254)."

22 Ok people now you know Mary Ellen Withrow is the "Treasury" because she is the "Treasurer of the United States,"
23 correct? So why is it stated in the Notes,

24 "In subsection (c) (2), the word `Secretary' is substituted for `Treasurer" because of the source 25 provisions restated in section 321 (c) of the revised title?"

26 Simple. There is no "secretary" that is the Secretary of the United States Treasury as there is no United States Independent 27 Treasury anymore. Following the trail to this point you have:

28 Table 1: Privatization of the Department of the Treasury

What once was	Is now
Treasurer	"Secretary of the Treasury"
Treasurer of the United States	"Treasury"
Treasurer	"Secretary"

29 Read this until you have it firmly locked in your brain. The "Secretary" in the Internal Revenue Code is at present, Manuel
30 Diaz Saldana⁵, who, was the treasurer of Puerto Rico? He is the "Secretary of the Treasury of Puerto Rico." See, they don't 31 tell you who is Secretary of what Treasury, do they? Fraud perhaps, but you didn't ask, did you? Are liars and thieves
32 supposed to tell all? And all along you thought it was the Secretary of the Treasury or his predecessors because isn't he

830, title III, sec. 329 (b), 49 Stat 1957.

⁵ Note 26 U.S.C. §6301 and 27 CFR §250.11, defines this "secretary."

1 called Secretary of the Treasury? Don't presume anything when dealing with liars, thieves, profligates, cretins (all three 2 branches of de facto usurpers) and the like.

3 Now go back and tie in 41 Stat 321, 49 Stat. 1957 with Title 27, Title 26 and all other sections where the term "secretary" is
4 used such as 26 U.S.C. §6020(b). Do not confuse the Secretary of Treasury Robert Rubin with the Secretary of the Treasury
5 Mary Ellen Withrow, (old Treasurer of the United States Treasury) or is it Manuel Saldana, Secretary of Treasury of Puerto
6 Rico? Rubin is Secretary of the treasury all right, but not of the United States. He is Secretary of treasury of the Federal 7 Reserve/IMF. The agent of the United States that took place of the Independent Treasury through the Federal Reserve Act.
8 That is why he has no subscribed oath of office required under 5 U.S.C. §3331 and why he is paid by the International
9 Monetary Fund/Bank found in 60 Stat 1401 et seq. and 22 U.S.C. §286a. Rubin is not the "Secretary" described in 26
10 U.S.C. §6301, is he? And neither is Mary Ellen Withrow who is also the Secretary of the Treasury according to the chart

12 Now look at 26 U.S.C. §7401, and define the "secretary" so it does not conflict with the "secretary" in 26 U.S.C. §6301,
13 defined in 27 CFR §250.11. Can the "secretary" in 26 U.S.C. §7401 or any other Internal Revenue Code section be anyone
14 other than the one defined in 26 U.S.C. §6301? If the answer is yes, then provide to me the definition found in any 15 regulation or statute for another "secretary," otherwise it would be "manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof" of what
16 Congress had in mind when abolishing the Independent Treasury, and changing the definitions all around, huh?

17 The Attorney General holds the Title of Alien Property Custodian and when they team up in 26 U.S.C. §7401, they both 18 have to sign on the dotted line to prosecute you for what?: Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms commercial crimes? How about 19 contract crimes where you became a government statutory "employee" in 26 U.S.C. §3401(c) receiving statutory federal 20 "wages?".

21 Why do they need an "Alien Property Custodian"? Because all income taxes under I.R.C. Subtitles A through C pertaining 22 to "individuals" all relate to statutory "aliens". The definition of "individual" confirms this, and THIS "individual" is the 23 same individual listed in the upper left corner of the IRS Form 1040. "Citizens" are nowhere included within the definition
24 of "individual" and therefore are purposefully excluded. When they pay taxes under 26 U.S.C. §911, they are statutory 25 "individuals" under a tax treaty with a foreign country while abroad, and therefore also "aliens". To wit:

26 26 CFR 1.1441-1 Requirement for the deduction and withholding of tax on payments to foreign 27 persons.

28 (c) Definitions

29 (3) Individual.

30 (i) Alien individual.

31 The term alien individual means an individual who is not a citizen or a national of the United 32 States. See Sec. 1.1-1(c).

33 (ii) Nonresident alien individual.

34 The term nonresident alien individual means a person described in section 7701(b)(1)(B), an 35 alien individual who is a resident of a foreign country under the residence article of an income
36 tax treaty and Sec. 301.7701(b)-7(a)(1) of this chapter, or an alien individual who is a resident
37 of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin
38 Islands, or American Samoa as determined under Sec. 301.7701(b)-1(d) of this chapter. An 39 alien individual who has made an election under section 6013 (g) or (h) to be treated as a
40 resident of the United States is nevertheless treated as a nonresident alien individual for 41 purposes of withholding under chapter 3 of the Code and the regulations thereunder.

42 Now let us see what happened to those real Treasury "officers" that were changed to "officials" in section 321 when the 43 Independent Treasury was abolished. We go to:

44 5 U.S.C. §5512, Historical and Revision notes.

1 "In subsection (b), reference to the 'General Accounting Office' is substituted for 'accounting
2 officers of the Treasury' on authority of the Act of June 10, 1921, ch 18, title III, 42 Stat. 23.
3 Reference to the 'Attorney General' is substituted for 'Solicitor of the Treasury' and 'Solicitor'
4 on authority of section 16 of the Act of March 3, 1933, ch 212, 47 Stat. 1517; section 5 of E.O.
5 1666, June 10, 1933; and section 1 of 1950 Reorg. Plan No. 2, 64 Stat. 1261."

6 What becomes apparent now is that the term Solicitor only deals with contracting parties and operates in Chancery court to 7 which he represents the Treasury. There must be a contract. Do you have one with the government? No? Better think
8 again when we get to joint-venture. A solicitor can control the property in the interim during a case. The contract is the 9 "trade or business" franchise that forms the heart of the I.R.C. Subtitles A through C excise tax.

10 Now there is a statute that declared the "attorney General" to become the "Alien Property Custodian." Before we get to that 11 you will have to understand the functions of the Alien Property Custodian and why it is so critical to understand in 12 reference to the above paragraph's dates dealing with the War Powers Act, so read Title 50 Appendix, Sec. 9. After reading
13 this we now come to the meat of who is coming after you for taxes in conjunction with the Secretary of the Treasury of 14 Puerto Rico by reading the following:

15 "Attorney General. The term 'Attorney General' includes the Alien Property Custodian whose 16 functions were transferred to the Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 9788 (3 CFR 17 1943-1948 Comp., p.575) . . ."
18 [26 CFR §303.1-1 (b)]

19 Please note the word "includes" is restrictive. This is proof that the word "includes" is restrictive in all IRS code or statute
20 where the word means is not used. You don't have to go any further than this for proofs.

21 "Trading With the Enemy Act. The term 'Trading With the Enemy Act' includes all amendments
22 of such Act, and all orders, rules, and regulations issued or prescribed under such Act or any 23 such amendment."
24 [26 CFR §303.1-1 (f)]

25 Now put 26 CFR §303.1-1 (d):

26 " . . . charged with the liability for internal revenue tax in connection with such property."

27 . . .with 26 CFR §303.1-1 (g):

28 "Property. The term 'property' includes money, . . ."

29 Federal reserve notes are property to which a liability attaches under:

30 "Tax. The term 'tax' has the meaning stated in section 36(d) of the Trading With the Enemy Act 31 as added by the Act of August 8, 1946."
32 [26 CFR §303.1-1 (j)]

33 "Interest and Penalties. (a) Liability for interest and civil penalties. Under subsection (d) of 34 section 36, of the Trading With the Enemy Act there is no liability for interest or penalty on 35 account of any act or failure of the Attorney General."
36 [26 CFR §303.1-6]

37 "Claims for refund or credit. "(a) Claims for refund or credit must be filed within the period
38 prescribed by section 6511 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as modified by section 36(c)
39 of the Trading With the Enemy Act. . . ."
40 [26 CFR §303.1-7]

41 Hello Enemy of congress, are you listening yet? Are you comprehending that the control of the IRC is done by the Trading 42 With the Enemy Act of Congress?

2 PART I. PRESIDENT AND DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

4 (a) Except as provided by subsection (b) of this section, all functions vested by law in the Alien
5 Property Custodian or the Office of Alien Property Custodian are transferred to the Attorney
6 General and shall be performed by him or, subject to his direction and control, by such officers
7 and agencies of the Department of Justice as he may designate.

8 (b) The functions vested by law in the Alien Property Custodian or the Office of Alien Property
9 Custodian with respect to property or interests located in the Philippines or which were so

11 the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended (50 App. U.S.C. 1 et seq.), are transferred to the 12 President and shall be performed by him or, subject to his direction and control, by such

17 (Repealed. Pub. L. 97-258, Sec. 5(b), Sept. 13, 1982, 96 Stat. 1068, 1085. Section transferred 18 various contract settlement functions to the Secretary of the Treasury and abolished the Office 19 of Contract Settlement.) [So now the contract is with the Treasurer who was the Secretary of 20 Treasury of the United States? Does it say Secretary of the Treasury of the United States? So 21 it must be the Treasurer, see above who you are dealing with.]

22 SEC. 202. NATIONAL PROHIBITION ACT FUNCTIONS

23 The functions of the Attorney General and of the Department of Justice with respect to (a) the 24 determination of Internal Revenue taxes and penalties (exclusive of the determination of 25 liability guaranteed by permit bonds) arising out of violations of the National Prohibition Act

27 to the Constitution, and (b) the compromise, prior to reference to the Attorney General for suit, 28 of liability for such taxes and penalties, are transferred to the Commissioner of Internal 29 Revenue, Department of the Treasury: Provided, That any compromise of such liability shall be 30 effected in accordance with the provisions of section 3761 of the Internal Revenue Code (of 31 1939) (see 26 U.S.C. §7122). All files and records of the Department of Justice used primarily 32 in the administration of the functions transferred by the provisions of this section are hereby 33 made available to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for use in the administration of such 34 functions."

35 Are they talking about "individual income taxes" here or ATF taxes? Want to know why you are licensed, AKA the SS#,
36 to get a job or otherwise? It is due to the revamping of the War Powers Act of 1917 to make the people the enemy of the 37 banking cartel. They charge (tax) you for the use of the military scrip, AKA federal reserve note, as it is a foreign bill of 38 exchange. Here is but a small portion of which you will have to read it all. I told you I'm only scratching the surface and 39 those of you that wanted cites to research here they are.

20 returnable. Nothing in this section shall be construed as authorizing the taking of actual 21 possession, by any officer of any court, of any money or other property held by the Alien

30 SECTION REFERRED TO IN OTHER SECTIONS

31 This section is referred to in title 28 section 2680.

32 There you have it people, the Attorney General is coming after your property and he has no interest or power over the 33 Philippines, just you. Hey, file a tort action, it's right in 28 U.S.C. §2680. And there are other avenues located within this 34 treatise to get remedy. The question to ask is,

35 "What RIGHT do they have to bring the action in the first place, rather than, what claim do they 36 have to bring?"

37 42 Stat. 23 created the General Accounting office which is not an agency by any stretch of the imagination. It is an 38 independent establishment ⁷. To prove it is not an agency read 5 U.S.C. §3132, and while you are at it pull 5 U.S.C. §§4101, 39 4301, 4501, 5102, 5342, 5531, 5561 and 7511 for the definition of statutory "employee" and who it is, and is not and 4701.

⁷ 5 U.S.C. §104; 5 U.S.C. §902 leading you to 902 (a) of former Title 5 and Title 60e-2(b) and all of 2 U.S.C. Chapter 4.

1 4701 describes "eligible." Here you will see if you are "eligible" to qualify for government employment, under 26 U.S.C.
2 §3401. If you think you have dependents that can be claimed under 26 U.S.C. §152, think again after reading Title 5
3 Appendix, Sec. 109 definitions. Are you a federal official? Another cite you should fully investigate is 5 U.S.C. Sec. 5921.

4 "For the purpose of this subchapter –

5 (1) 'Government' means the Government of the United States;

6 (2) 'agency' means an Executive agency and the Library of Congress, but does not include a
7 Government controlled corporation;

8 (3) 'employee' means an employee in or under an agency and more specifically defined by 9 regulations prescribed by the President; Reference to 'ambassadors, ministers, and officers of 10 the Foreign Service under the Department of State' is omitted as included in the definition of 11 'employee'. Emphasis added

12 In the Historical notes this is more explicit;

13 "In paragraph (3), the word 'employee' is substituted for 'individual in the civilian service' in 14 view of the definition of 'employee' in section 2105."

15 Further on in the notes you will find this:

16 "Section 522 of Pub. L. 86-707, Sept. 6, 1960, 74 Stat. 802. Overseas Differentials and 17 Allowances Act, provided that:

18 'Notwithstanding any provision of this Act (enacting chapter 37 of former title 5 (now covered 19 by this subchapter), amending other sections as shown in the Tables, and enacting provisions 20 set out as notes under this section and section 912 of Title 26, Internal Revenue Code) and until 21 such time as regulations are issued under this Act, employees shall continue to be paid 22 allowances and differentials in accordance with rules and regulations issued pursuant to the 23 laws in effect immediately prior to the enactment of this Act (Sept. 6, 1960) and such rules and 24 regulations may be amended or revoked in accordance with the provision of such laws.'

25 By removing words such as "ambassador", "foreign counsel" and others as surplusage, they can get away with calling
26 anybody a statutory "employee" because the definitive term was abolished. Also note the word "civilian service" does not
27 mean you, unless you are the "eligible" working for the corporation called the "United States" or State because the other
28 "service" is the military service. So "individual" is a term to describe an officer or statutory "employee" of the government,
29 NOT you from the private sector. Now go to 5 U.S.C. §2105 and you will see that you, the average American is not
30 described as an "employee." Oh darn it, now you have to go all the way back to 2 U.S.C. §60e, Title 5, Part III, Subpart D,
31 Chapter 53, Subchapter III, to find the General Schedule Pay Rate of those to be taxed and the sections that apply in all 50
32 titles of the U.S. Codes. In there is 26 U.S.C. §§7471, 9010 and 9040. Now we have to go to 22 U.S.C. §3310,
33 FOOTNOTE 2, and that leads us to 5 U.S.C. §8334 (4) (A), federal wages. Gosh, does that mean that, 42 U.S.C. §1717,
34 "assignment of benefits; execution, levy, etc., against benefits" apply to you under 26 U.S.C. §6331 (a) before (b), (c), (d)
35 can apply? We have always said the reason they don't put Sec 6331 (a) on the notice of levy to your employer is fraud to 36 cover their theft. They don't need it for one of their own because they are paying them out of the treasury.

37 Here is the proof. Now the cestui que trust (the PUBLIC TRUST) they are operating has just dealt them a death blow under 38 breach of fiduciary trust because the Constitution is nothing but a treaty obligation on the people in government, not you.
39 Look also at 31 U.S.C. §1309 to see if you are working for a statutory "employer" under 26 U.S.C. §3401(d) as an
40 "employee" under 3401 (c) for this Social Security tax. Are you? A case for Joint-Venture would have to be proved to bring 41 you into the subject matter jurisdiction. Now we are back to the "solicitor" and "Alien Property Custodian" and the 42 "contract that you thought you didn't have. They already have jurisdiction over the subject matter because Congress gave 43 the courts that much. A footnote in a case ⁸,

⁸ Porter v. Cooke, 127 F.2d. 853 note 8.

1 "The now widely recognized legal concept of joint adventurers is of modern origin. It has been
2 said to be purely the creature of the American courts. [Oh, not the legislature?] The early
3 common law did not recognize the relationship of co-adventurers unless the elements of a
4 partnership were disclosed and proved. 30 Am Jur. page 676."
5 [Porter v. Cooke, 127 F.2d. 853 note 8]

6 What this is saying is that the government does not have to prove you are in a joint-venture with them as a corporation, 28
7 U.S.C. §3002 (15) . It is presumed you are since:

- 8 1. You claim statutory "citizen" or "resident" status, which is a privilege/franchise.
- 9 2. You didn't object to the use of the international bill of exchange, which is the Federal Reserve Note. That note is 10 property of the issuer on loan to you, which in turn creates the fiduciary duty as public officer:

11 "How, then, are purely equitable obligations created? For the most part, either by the acts of 12 *third persons or by equity alone. But how can one person impose an obligation upon another?
13 By giving property [a Federal Reserve Note] to the latter on the terms of his assuming an 14 obligation [PUBLIC OFFICE] in respect to it. At law there are only two means by which the 15 object of the donor could be at all accomplished, consistently with the entire ownership of the 16 property passing to the donee, namely: first, by imposing a real obligation upon the property;
17 secondly, by subjecting the title of the donee to a condition subsequent. The first of these the 18 *law does not permit; the second is entirely inadequate. Equity, however, can secure most of the 19 objects of the doner, and yet avoid the mischiefs of real obligations by imposing upon the donee
20 (and upon all persons to whom the property shall afterwards come without value or with notice)
21 a personal obligation with respect to the property; and accordingly this is what equity does. It 22 is in this way that all trusts are created, and all equitable charges made (i.e., equitable 23 hypothecations or liens created) by testators in their wills. In this way, also, most trusts are 24 created by acts inter vivos, except in those cases in which the trustee incurs a legal as well as 25 an equitable obligation. In short, as property is the subject of every equitable obligation, so 26 the owner of property is the only person whose act or acts can be the means of creating an 27 obligation in respect to that property. Moreover, the owner of property can create an 28 obligation in respect to it in only two ways: first, by incurring the obligation himself, in which 29 case he commonly also incurs a legal obligation; secondly, by imposing the obligation upon 30 some third person; and this he does in the way just explained."

33 That is the controlling fact, not that you are a statutory "employee" per 26 U.S.C. §3401(c) or have statutory "wages", and 34 all the other collateral issues that haven't won in a coon's age. Ahh, but wait, you are forgetting something if you have read
35 The New History of America and James Montgomery's three treatises on British Colony rule and the Reconstruction Acts of 36 a De Facto congress that put you under military occupation since the act of March 7, 1867.

37 Under the War Powers act and military conquest under Lincoln, the states became federal agents because the states were 38 nothing but "districts" under military rule of Congress that was a DE FACTO Congress calling us the enemy under 39 "imperfect war." ⁹ YES, we are the enemy of the de factos, not the real Congress that went Sine Die back in 1789. Here is 40 where the state income tax issue comes in ¹⁰. Also see 4 U.S.C. §111. 5 U.S.C. §5512 deals with "withholding of pay;
41 individuals in arrears." This is where 26 U.S.C. §6331(a) comes into play for all government workers and not you people.
42 Also referencing to 60c-3 of Title 2 you will see at (c) (1) where the W-4 applies and who is to use it. Now you have the 43 meat of the subject because this is what the term "covered employment" means, it is employment covered by federal 44 employer or a corporation of a federal government, 28 U.S.C. §3002 (15). But wait, it gets better, so go pull and read these

1 endnotes ¹¹. After reading these then remember 41 Stat. 321? Well at the end is 49 Stat 1964 related to the effect of act of
2 June 26, 1936, which describes the duties and powers of the "Secretary of the Treasury." You all know by now who it is,
3 don't we? This Stat is the source for 27 U.S.C. §202. You will love the Codification part where it states:

4 "Subsections (a) to (d) provided for the creation of a Federal Alcohol Administration as a
5 division of the Treasury Department. [Hey people, department, not "united States Treasury"
6 as it was abolished in 1929] By act June 26, 1936, ch. 830, title V, 49 Stat. 1964, however,
7 those subsections were repealed and a new Administration created as an independent agency ¹².
8 The repealing act was to be effective when the new administrators authorized thereby were 9 appointed. While the officers so authorized were never appointed and the repeal therefore never 10 became effective, subsections (a) to (d) have been omitted in view of the Reorg. Plan No. III of 11 1940, set out in the Appendix to Title 5, Government Organization and Employees, which 12 abolished the Administration and transferred its functions to the Secretary of the Treasury to be 13 administered through the Bureau of Internal Revenue (now Internal Revenue Service)."

14 Don't you just love what the de facto's put in print for all to see? It's like leaving a 100 federal reserve note in plain sight
15 and the thief never notices it. He goes for all the hiding places, as we do, and never finds what is out in plain sight.

16 So you think you have a good grasp on who is who? You better have because now go back and look at 41 Stat 654, which 17 authorizes 12 U.S.C. Sections 121, 419 and 467, among other Titles. A closer look at sec. 121 reveals that by statute law
18 the Treasurer must redeem any note of any association, of which the Federal Reserve is, in United States Notes ¹³. So now
19 we go to 12 U.S.C. Sec. 467. Tell me if Robert Rubin or Mary Ellen Withrow is "the Secretary of the Treasury authorized
20 to receive deposits of gold or of gold certificates or of Special Drawing Right certificates with the treasurer or any 21 designated depository of the United States . . ."? First, tell me what Treasury are we talking about and then the name of the 22 secretary? If need be go back and see all the substitutions for terms when the Independent Treasury of the United States
23 was abolished such as in 31 U.S.C. §3322.

24 You have on hand in standard terminology the following;

- 25 1. Secretary of Treasury, Robert Rubin
- 26 2. Treasurer of the United States, Mary Ellen Withrow.
- 27 3. Secretary of the Treasury, Manual Diaz Saldana, who the people have no knowledge he exists.

28 Some questions come to mind by viewing the above list:

- 29 1. From the three above who is the "Secretary" described in 26 U.S.C. §6301 for he, "shall collect the taxes imposed by 30 the internal revenue laws?"
- 31 2. Why do you write to "Secretary of the Treasury" in a tax matter? He's an agent of the International Monetary Fund
32 who is not even paid by the U.S. government per 22 U.S.C. §286a(d).
- 33 3. Which of the three above or none of the above, oversees all the accounting of the money of the United States?
- 34 4. Have you ever asked under 26 U.S.C. §7401 for the authorization papers signed by Manual Saldana to come after you 35 for a civil action?
- 36 5. What about a criminal action?
- 37 6. Isn't the Attorney General a solicitor, which means there must be a contract for him to get involved in bringing you to 38 trial? ATF business is a contract isn't it because all the activities are franchise licensed and all franchises are contracts?

- 1 7. Doesn't the General Accounting Office have to report to the De Facto congress to account for all property given or
2 taken by any officer of the United States and given to either the Alien Property Custodian or the Treasurer of the 3 United States for accounting?
- 4 8. Why can't you go to the General Accounting Office ¹⁴ and demand to see where your specific property that was stolen
5 has been properly accounted for by the GAO and that it was properly lodged with either the Alien Property Custodian
6 or the Treasurer of the United States?
- 7 9. Isn't it possible that since the GAO is an independent instrumentality reporting only to de facto congress, that they are 8 the next target to sue out for the response the IRS should have given you?

10 TITLE 10, Subtitle A, PART II, CHAPTER 55
11 Sec. 1084. Determinations of dependency

12 A determination of dependency by an administering Secretary under this chapter is conclusive.
13 However, the administering Secretary may change a determination because of new evidence or 14 for other good cause. The Secretary's determination may not be reviewed in any court or by the 15 General Accounting Office, unless there has been fraud or gross negligence.

16 So here is another "court" you can go to besides "any court." There is certainly enough fraud to defraud you of your
17 property, labor, for commercial paper of no substance therefore, no quid pro quo. The Appellate pleading in Bruun v
18 Hanson, 103 F.2d. 685, is the kicker against them. There are a few people who have the entire case.

- 19 10. On the federal reserve note there appears two signatures, one is the "Treasurer of the United States", the other 20 "Secretary of the Treasury", correct?
- 21 11. Since the first is of the United States and the other is of a private banking concern called the IMF, do we now have a 22 foreign bill of exchange authorized by two separate entities, namely the BORROWER, who is the de facto government,
23 and the LENDER, who is the IMF?
- 24 12. Does this not then become an international bill of exchange issued by the IMF, which operates all over the world
25 wherein some countries use it as their medium of exchange as does Panama?
- 26 13. If the "Treasurer of the United States" signed the note, what earthly good reason would her Secretary have to sign it
27 and in what authoritative capacity? Aren't FRNs promissory notes, as held by the U.S. Supreme Court in the Legal 28 Tender Cases and aren't all promissory notes LOANS involving the BORROWER/government and LENDER/Federal 29 Reserve?
- 30 14. Wouldn't it be redundant and cause the federal reserve "note" (military scrip) to fail all banking laws on being a valid 31 "note?"

32 Under Military law the civil authorities have been given control over the collection of revenues ¹⁵.

- 33 1. Are revenues under maritime principles subject to admiralty rules?
- 34 2. Are Admiralty rules controlled by the commander in chief of a nation?
- 35 3. Does The United States have a President who is the commander in chief?
- 36 4. Is it under treaty to collect debts for the British Crown?
- 37 5. Does there exist a blocking Code on the Individual Master File (IMF)/Business Master File (BMF) for U.S./U.K
38 Treaty?

39 The de facto congress has complete control over military rule, not the President of the corporation called the United States.
40 This is evidenced by the veto of President Johnson's veto after Lincoln was killed. Congress put the people back under the 41 military rule. Congress set up the Office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. That's all it set up.¹⁶ It did not set up
42 the Bureau of Internal Revenue. That fact has been brought to light so many times it's stale. In fact, not once, in all my

1 research in Title 5, Government Organization, did the IRS, as an instrumentality, agency, or independent establishment ever
2 rear its ugly head to be defined as such. A department of Treasury means just that, a department because there is no U.S.
3 Treasury any more. But go back and look at page 4, 31 U.S.C. §1310 and WHAT ONCE WAS- NOW IS. Therefore, any
4 U.S. Attorney is committing fraud when defending or acting as plaintiff party for the IRS, which is not a legal entity. Name
5 the statute generated by Congress that authorizes a U.S. Attorney to defend or represent a private IRS flunky that is simply
6 hired by a district director, and not as a valid United States Employee under 5 U.S.C. §2105? Then to make matters more
7 complicated for them, ask the Secretary of State, to authenticate the record that she has issued a license for that attorney to 8 practice his profession as does every other corporate profession. You might have fun with the States also, because the 9 Supreme Court only issues certificates of "club" incompetence to an attorney and have no executive power to license any 10 one or any profession as does the Executive under UCC Rules.

11 Since I have exposed the admiralty principles used by the government in the two cases cited in my writings ¹⁷ that stated the 12 procedure must start out in Admiralty, then proceed to the civil side of Admiralty to complete the case, shows how Manual
13 Saldana plays an important part. This Secretary of Treasury was created, and by the Jones Act (Puerto Rico) and 48 U.S.C.
14 §1469a-1 says,

15 "Full amounts to be covered into treasuries of Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico
16 and Virgin Islands; reductions prohibited."

17 . . .play a important part. The phrase "covered into" is controlling. Now for your homework, research this phrase "covered 18 into," and "covered employment."

19 The real characters you should be addressing are:

- 20 1. The "Secretary" of the Treasury of Puerto Rico.
- 21 2. The Service Center Director, The Chief Collection officer, The Chief Assessment Officer, who are his "delegates".
- 22 3. Then the Treasurer of the United States.
- 23 4. The Alien Property Custodian (Attorney General).
- 24 5. The General Accounting Office Director.
- 25 6. And finally Congress, the real criminal usurpers (de facto).

26 Why have an alien property custodian? Because when the de facto congress in 1867 created an alien enemy, that is us the 27 people, and they need to have enemies property taken it goes to the alien property custodian. People domiciled outside of 28 federal territory in a legislatively foreign state, a state of the Union, are statutory but not constitutional "aliens" in relation
29 to the national government. Have I rung any bells yet or are the cobwebs so thick the fly can't escape? Bring charges
30 against Congress, especially the one or two usurpers that services the "district" that the action takes place against you.
31 Charge them with every crime you can that they are subject to in Title 18. After all it is they who are bound by those 32 corporate laws not you. Did you take an oath to uphold their corporate obligation handed down by the Crown? Did you take 33 an oath of allegiance to their corporate flag? You know, the allegiance that was concocted and put into practice in the very 34 late 1890's, that none of the "Founding Fathers" would ever dream of pledging. Sure, you can defend your country without 35 taking allegiance to a piece of cloth that represents a monarchy in sheep's clothing, while it is really collecting from the 36 ignorant sheeple the debt it owes to an oligarchy of federal reserve private bankers made long before you were born. I think
37 you call that FRAUD of monumental proportions and a criminal act of their fiduciary capacity in administering a Cestui
38 Que Trust, the Constitution. Not to mention the real benefactors are sucking the life blood out of you through their 39 fraudulent banking system by using inflatable paper to confiscate the hard money that the first real United States Treasury 40 tried to avoid.

41 How are some of you so called "patriots," for want of a better name, going to spread truth if you don't know the truth? For 42 starters why don't you spread the word for people to buy and read The New History of America and James Montgomery's
43 British Colony I, II, & III.

35 There is a lot more to this statute. I suggest you pull it and read it, especially all of you charged with 18 U.S.C. §371, which 36 is listed in Benedict On Admiralty, as specifically a maritime (commercial Crime), look at 27 CFR §72.11. This Title
37 continues to state:

42 SECTION REFERRED TO IN OTHER SECTIONS

43 This section is referred to in sections 4, 12, 25, 26, 29, 30, 32, 33, 35, 36, 44 of this Appendix;
44 title 28 section 2680.

45 Is this statute stating that those having this property of yours are committing an 18 U.S.C. §371 crime if it is not reported?
46 Does the Statutes apply to the corporate government officials, employees and the like, and NOT you, the slave to the 47 system? Does this affect the IRS agent and those above him in command, all the way to the "Secretary" defined in 26
48 U.S.C. §6301? Could you go to the GAO and have them do an accounting of the property taken from you to see that it was

1 reported and given to the Alien Property Custodian and the Treasurer of the United States? Think, people, think and use the
2 brain the Lord Almighty gave you. Do you still want to be robbed again and again by a de facto congress and state
3 legislators, the same as if a thief demanded money from you to only steal a little from you each year? And if you didn't he
4 would seize your property as "booty" and sell it? That's exactly the type of usurpers you are living under and you give them
5 your blessings to do it by voting for them as "your representatives." Read my New History of America and see what I mean.
6 Your vote doesn't count one iota. The Electoral College votes as it sees fit to protect the usurpers. What do you do to 7 usurpers? That's your choice. But don't continue to complain when you do no research. I don't want to hear that you have
8 no time or that you are not educated enough. If we can do it, so can you. Collectively you can form groups. Collectively
9 you have the time to be continually robbed, don't you? It makes me sick to hear people whine constantly and not do
10 anything about it and then get mad at the researcher for trying when you love to be robbed day in and day out for your 11 whole life with the lame excuse, "Oh, what would we do without government. We have to pay taxes?" Bahh, Humbug! I
12 told you I am only scratching the surface with this short treatise.

13 But here is the kicker that destroys the last paragraph. What if they come after you admitting that the USE of the private 14 federal reserve scrip is what they are laying a tax upon? It's their private international bill of exchange and property on 15 LOAN to you, isn't it? They flood the market with it don't they? Don't they need a way to regulate the supply of such fiat
16 currency by using a so-called tax to extract excess amounts from circulation in order to regulate its value?

17 2.2 Secretary of the Treasury

18 The Secretary of the Treasury is defined in the I.R.C. as the following:

15 collecting taxes in that State, territory, possession, or district.

16 The Secretary of the Treasury is also empowered to write all regulations for the administration of the Internal Revenue
17 Service:

19 § 7805. Rules and regulations

20 (a) Authorization

21 Except where such authority is expressly given by this title to any person other than an officer
22 or employee of the Treasury Department, the Secretary shall prescribe all needful rules and 23 regulations for the enforcement of this title, including all rules and regulations as may be 24 necessary by reason of any alteration of law in relation to internal revenue.

25 Pursuant to 22 U.S.C. §286, the President is authorized to accept membership for the United States in the International
26 Monetary Fund ("The Fund"), and in the International Bank For Reconstruction and Development ("The Bank"), provided
27 for by the "Articles of Agreement of the Fund" and the "Articles of Agreement of the Bank", as set forth in the "Final Act
28 of the United Nations Monetary and Financial Conference" dated July 22, 1944, which are deposited in the archives of the 29 Department of State. These Acts are commonly known as the Bretton Woods Agreements. They are international 30 agreements. The Articles of Agreement assert that those holding public office could do not only what the delegated powers
31 under the Constitution did not authorize, but what they forbid. In other words, Congress created these two entities and 32 granted them the capacity to do what they were prohibited from doing directly. The complete debasement of the 33 Constitutional Coin was effected and accomplished under the International Monetary Fund's (IMF) Articles of Agreement.

34 Pursuant to 22 U.S.C. §286a, the President appoints the alien, corporate "Governor" to oversee the United States
35 membership in "The Fund" and "The Bank". He is today commonly referred to as the "Secretary of Treasury." This is 36 confirmed by the IMF Website at:

IMF Members' Quotas and Voting Power, and IMF Board of Governors
<http://www.imf.org/external/np/sec/memdir/members.aspx>

37 According to 22 U.S.C. §286a, the Governor of the IMF is nominated by the President and is FORBIDDEN from being 38 paid by the government. That same "Governor" is the statutory "Secretary of the Treasury" indicated above,

3 (a) Governors and executive directors; term of office

4 The President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint a governor of the Fund who shall also

23 Therefore, the Secretary of the Treasury AND the Governor of the IMF:

- 24 1. Does not work for the American People or even the President.
25 2. Is not paid the American people.
26 3. Is an agent of a foreign principle if he performs ANY function for the United States Government.
27 4. If he in fact is an agent of a foreign principle, then any attempt to enforce any provision he authored against those who 28 don't consent is an act of international terrorism instituted by a foreign sovereign.
29 5. If he also works for the United States government, has criminal financial conflict of interest per 18 U.S.C. §208.
30 6. Owes his primary allegiance to the IMF and the Federal Reserve and NOT the American People.

31 Furthermore, since he is empowered per 26 U.S.C. §7805 to write the regulations that govern the IRS, then the IRS must 32 not be part of the government since he isn't part of the government.

33 The unconstitutional and unlawful re-delegation of Congress' power to create money under the Federal Reserve Act
34 occurred in 1913, out of which there was created the end of the "independent treasury" on May 29, 1920, in which the

[Diversified Metal Company v. T-Bow Company Trust, Internal Revenue Service,
Civ. No. 93-405—E-EJL, United States District Court, Idaho;
SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Evidence/USGovDeniesIRS/USGovDeniesIRS.htm>]

The IRS is established by regulation of the Secretary at 26 CFR §601.101. The regulations are known as "Part 600". The Tenth Circuit identified this regulation as the origin of the IRS in Lonsdale v. U.S., 919 F.2d. 1440, 1448 (10th Cir. 1990). In Snyder v. U.S., 596 F.Supp. 240, 247 (N.D. Ind. 1984) it was held the IRS owes its entire legal existence pursuant to 26 CFR §601.101. The Tenth Circuit cited to Section 601.101 in U.S. v. Dawes, 951 F.2d. 1189, 1193(N.3)(10th Cir. 1991).

The Supreme Court has found the IRS is "organized to carry out" the Internal Revenue Laws. By "internal" is meant "internal" to the U.S. government and statutory "United States" (26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10)), not internal to the geographic "United States" or "United States of America". U.S. v. Euge, 444 U.S. 707, 719 (N.3)(1980).

2.4 Department of Justice

The Department of Justice has an "Attorney General," See Title 28, Sec. 503, who has "functions" including those "of agencies...of the Department of Justice..." See Title 28, Sec. 509. What then are "agencies of the Department of Justice"?

In order to answer this question you must first understand the term "Bureau." For example, the letters "FBI" is commonly known to stand for "Federal Bureau of Investigation" established by Title 28, Sec. 531 "in the Department of Justice." BOP stand for Bureau of Prisons which actually is the FBOP.

For example, under the Federal Tort Claims Act Congress defines a "Federal Agency" to "include [the] executive departments....of the United States." See Title 28, Sec. 2671. So, if the "Bureau" is in a "Department" then it is an agency of the United States. There are many other examples that support this explanation.

The simple way to understand "Agency" is one that acts or takes action upon the authority of another. In 2006, Congress established the "Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and explosives" within the Department of Justice. See Title 28, Section 599A. Prior to this statutory enactment the SOTT defined "Bureau" at 27 CFR Part 447, Sub Chapter B at Chapter II "Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives, Department of JUSTICE." In Subpart B in a part Titled "Definitions" the meaning of terms define "Bureau" as "Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms, Department of TREASURY."

So, to understand the Department of Justice has a Bureau of ATFE and the Department of Treasury as a Bureau of ATF. The difference of course is "explosive" and separate statutory existence. However, both are "agencies" of the United States but one is established by Congress and the Secretary's ATF is an agency created by regulation.

2.5 United States District Court

If you are blessed to read and understand how the power given the Secretary of the Treasury is different than any other Department or Agency you can then see by "background check" whether the U.S. District Court has "Jurisdiction" to enforce or adjudge any alleged transgression of laws related to internal revenue. I realize those who deal with matters related to internal revenue will understand this explanation sooner than most others, but you can be the exception.

The Supreme Court held in LaSalle that No U.S. Attorney can pursue prosecution of offenses related to internal revenue (id. 7201, 7201, 7212 or conspiracy under 371) unless he is "authorized" by the Secretary of the Treasury. See 437 U.S. at 312. This is because Congress placed ALL the laws related to internal revenue in the exclusive hands of the Secretary [Department of the Treasury] the decision of which laws to enforce. See Section 7801, 7803 and 7805

If a U.S. Attorney could do a Grand Jury proceeding related to internal revenue offenses while the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate pursues institutional goals of the IRS, the 5th Amendment Grand Jury then becomes under the control of the United States' IRS which completely violates the reason for a Grand Jury explained in U.S. v. Williams, 504 U.S. 36, 47 (1992). A Grand Jury's purpose is to stand between the Government and people and that cannot happen when either the IRS becomes the Grand Jury's agency or the Grand Jury becomes an agency of the IRS. Hence, the indict a ham sandwich theory.

The Supreme Court calls the "authorization" a "referral" to a local U.S. Attorney. LaSalle, 437 U.S. at 312. The United States Department of Justice has been aware the only way to have a person lawfully indicted by a 5th Amendment Grand Jury related to internal revenue laws, including banking laws under Title 31, since before 1978, and for some unknown reason refuses to obey LaSalle.

I guess the reason is that if the IRS had to stop doing a "criminal" investigation at the point a referral to a U.S. Attorney was lawfully made, the IRS Investigators, as Grand Jury Agents, would lose the sting they possess readily apparent when the Grand Jury and IRS become one flesh.

All the IRs must do is complete their institutional investigation and then if it unearths enough to make a referral the Grand Jury can hear the evidence. The U.S. Attorney may be able to use a Grand Jury to gather post referral evidence, not already gathered, in most cases, but not tax cases. In referral cases the "prophylactic rule" prohibits the U.S. Attorney to continue an IRS investigation of a certain calendar year after referral is more than clear.

At the point an IRS Criminal Investigator testifies as to the evidence he learned of before referral he is called a "witness." The point the Criminal Investigator's name appears on a Grand Jury subpoena he no longer is just a witness but now an agent of the Grand Jury which is unlawful. Just ask yourself where can a Grand Jury employ a witness who has testified before it to act on the Grand Jury's behalf?

The violations of the 5th Amendment are endless. Wouldn't a witness who testifies against a suspect, truthful or not, have motive to preserve his version of the facts? How this effects the District Court's Jurisdiction is also endless. A referral ends the IRS's institutional authority, civil or criminal, given it by the Secretary of the Treasury to enforce any provision of law related to internal revenue.

Look at it this way. The Secretary, by referral, takes his power from the IRS and hands it to the U.S. Attorney who then presents a case for Grand Jury indictment. Without the authorization from the Secretary of the Treasury, the U.S. Attorney would have no authority to consider prosecution under Title 28, Section 547(1) on "offenses" related to internal revenue. If a proper referral is made, no evidence obtained by the IRS through post referral enforcement statutes could ever be used to obtain an indictment or conviction because it was obtained without legal authority. Remember a subpoena or summons seeks the evidence by enforcement.

If you are being pursued by the Grand Jury and IRS at the same time you are experiencing modern day tyranny. You are also experiencing violations of your rights to a Grand Jury being properly empanelled, only be prosecuted by referral, and your rights protected by the Tax laws themselves. If a search warrant was obtained after referral you have a 4th and 5th Amendment violation. After indictment you should demand to see and have an expert examine the alleged referral to determine if it really is a referral or the type of made up letter frequently used against those the government wishes to persecute illegally.

1 The Bright Line establishes what evidence is to be excluded and establishes the District Court's Jurisdiction over the Grand
2 Jury claims. Remember, without referral lawfully made, the U.S. Attorney has no authority to prosecute, the Grand Jury
3 has no power to indict, and the District Court has no jurisdiction to enter judgment. Here is a quote from Kokkonen v.
4 Guardian Life, 511 U.S. 375, 377, 128 L.Ed.2d. 391 (1994):

17 The Party is the USA when a Grand Jury pursues or issues an indictment. So, when you are faced or know someone who 18 was or is facing Grand Jury charges derived from laws related to internal revenue, consider that it is presumed the 19 Government has not complied with the referral requirements and the District Court never had jurisdiction. If on 20 the other hand a referral does exist for a specific calendar year, any evidence obtained by the IRS after that date by 21 enforcement proceedings will most likely be excluded, when claimed, by law, since it was obtained after referral in very 22 bad faith.

23 Just do a background check and you will see for yourself.

24 2.6 Treasury Organization Charts

25 Several different historical versions of the United States Department of the Treasury Organizational Chart prove that the 26 IRS has never lawfully been a part of the Department of the Treasury. Not one of these organization charts lists the IRS as 27 being within the Dept. of Treasury. For conclusive proof of this, please see:

<http://famguardian.org/PublishedAuthors/Govt/HistoricalActs/HistFedIncTaxActs.htm>

2 In the same 1862 legislation that created the original Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Congress created the offices of
3 Assessor and Collector. The office of the Assessor was eliminated after the Civil War in 1872 (for proof see 17 Statutes at 4 Large 401, 42nd Congress, Session III Chapter XIII (December 24, 1872)). The Collector Office was eliminated in 1952
5 (see Notes under 26 U.S.C. §7804), leaving the income tax as entirely voluntary beyond that point. Contrary to IRS claims,
6 Congress never intended to create a Bureau of Internal Revenue even though something resembling that term appeared in
7 an early appropriations bill or two. The two key offices continued in full force and effect until President Harry Truman
8 unilaterally abolished them via Reorganization Plan No. 26 of 1950 and Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1952. The Bureau of 9 Internal Revenue was subsequently renamed to the Internal Revenue Service in July 9, 1953 by Treasury Secretary under 10 Delegation Order 150-06, which you can read for yourself at:

11 Delegation Order No. 150-06
12 <http://www.ustreas.gov/regs/to150-06.htm>

13 As part of Truman's reorganization plan, the Bureau of Internal Revenue was put in charge of administering internal 14 revenue laws of the United States; this is the same entity President Franklin Roosevelt put in charge of administering the 15 Federal Alcohol Administration Act via Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1940. The Roosevelt change was made after the 16 Supreme Court pulled the teeth of the Prohibition Act of 1926 and the Federal Alcohol Administration Act in December
17 1935 by declaring that with repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment in December 1933, federal concurrent jurisdiction within 18 States of the Union to enforce prohibition laws had also been repealed. Administration of the Federal Alcohol
19 Administration Act was subsequently moved to insular possessions in 1940 and administration of the Internal Revenue
20 Code was likewise moved to insular possessions in 1954. For enlightenment on the subject, read definitions at 27 CFR
21 §26.11. The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms was segregated from the Internal Revenue Service in approximately 22 1970 – they spring from common origins.

23 4. Statutory evidence

24 4.1 U.S. Code Title 31: IRS Is not Part of the Dept of the Treasury

25 Through research and analysis of Title 31 of the United States Code (U.S.C.) enacted by Congress, and the statutes used for 26 codification of Title 31, sections 301-310 inclusive we find that Congress organized the Department of the Treasury as 27 follows:

30 seat of Government (Washington, DC);

32 of the Senate to be known as the Secretary of the Treasury;
- 33 3. 301(c) – Congress provided for the position of a Deputy Secretary and at 301(c)(1) -whose duties are prescribed by the 34 Secretary, 301(c)(2) – who is to act for the Secretary when the Secretary is absent, unable, and during office vacancy of 35 the post;
- 36 4. 301(d) – Congress created positions for 2 Under Secretaries, 2 Deputy Secretaries and a Treasurer of the United States

39 same manner as 301(b) with duties as those of 301(c)(1);
- 40 6. 301(f)(1) – Congress provided for appointment of a General Council by the President in the same manner as 301(b),
41 who is to be the chief law officer of the Department and provides for the Secretary to appoint not more than 5 Assistant
42 General Councils with authority to designate one of the Assistant General Councils as the General Council when the 43 General Council is absent or unable to serve or when the office of General Council is vacant (see note below 44 concerning this section);
- 45 7. 301(f)(2) - Congress created a position for an Assistant General Council appointed by the President in the same manner
46 as 301(b) who shall be Chief Counsel for the Internal Revenue Service as chief law enforcement officer who shall 47 carry out duties and powers prescribed by the Secretary (see note below concerning this section);

- 1 8. 301(g) - Congress provides that the Department shall have a seal;
- 2 9. 302 - Congress created the Department of the Treasury of the United States Government as a Department;
- 3 10. 303(a) - Congress created the Bureau of Engraving and Printing as a Bureau in the Department of the Treasury and in 4 303(b) - a position for a Director known as the Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing who is to be appointed
5 by the Secretary of the Treasury, and as such Director at 301(b)(1) - shall carry out the duties and powers as prescribed
6 by the Secretary, and 301(b)(2) - who shall report directly to the Secretary;
- 7 11. 304(a) - Congress created the United States Mint as a bureau in the Department of the Treasury and 304(b) - a Director
8 of the Mint is appointed by the President in the same manner as 301(b)(1) who is to be the head of the Mint for a term
9 of 5 years, and upon removal from office the President shall send a message to the Senate giving reasons for such 10 removal, and 304(b)(2) - the Director shall carry out the duties and powers as prescribed by Secretary;
- 11 12. 305 - Congress directed that supervision and direction by the Secretary of the Treasury shall be over the Federal 12 Financing Bank established under section 4 of the Federal Financing Bank Act of 1973 (12 U.S.C. §2283);
- 13 13. 306(a) - Congress created the Fiscal Service as a service in the Department of the Treasury and 306(b) - Congress
14 created the position of Fiscal Assistant Secretary as head of the Fiscal Service appointed under section 301(d) of this 15 title, 306(c)(1) - Congress created the Bureau of Government Financial Operations within the Fiscal Service and 16 provided for the position of Commission of Government Financial Operations as the head of the bureau and created at 17 306(c)(2) - the Bureau of Public Debt with the position of Commissioner as the head of the bureau, and at 306(d) -
18 Congress enabled the Secretary of the Treasury to designate another officer or employee of the Department to act as 19 the Fiscal Assistant Secretary when he/she is absent or unable to serve or when the office is vacant;
- 20 14. 307 - Congress inserted the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency established under section 324 of the Revised 21 Statutes (12 U.S.C. §1) as an office in the Department of the Treasury;
- 22 15. 308 - Congress inserted the United States Customs Service established under section 1 of the act of March 3, 1927 (19 23 U.S.C. §2071) as a service in the Department of the Treasury;
- 24 16. 309 - Congress inserted the Office of Thrift Supervision established under section 3(a) of the Homeowner's Loan Act
25 as an office in the Department of the Treasury;
- 26 17. 310(a) - Congress inserted the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network established by order of the Secretary of the 27 Treasury (Treasury Order No. 150-08, referred to "FinCEN") on April 25, 1990, as a bureau in the Department of the 28 Treasury and creates the position of Director as head of the FinCEN bureau by appointment of the Secretary of the 29 Treasury at 310(b)(1) with enumerated duties and powers of the Director at 310(b)(2) and other performance outlines 30 throughout the remainder of subsection (c) and appropriations at subsection (d).

31 An examination of the above and the entire Title 31 of the U.S. Code reveals that Congress did NOT through any 32 enactment:

- 33 1. Create the "Internal Revenue Service (IRS)" as an "agency," "bureau," "office," or "service" within the Department of 34 the Treasury.
- 35 2. Create the predecessor to the IRS, which is the "Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR)" as an "agency," "bureau," "office," 36 or "service" within the Department of the Treasury.
- 37 3. Insert the Internal Revenue Service as an "agency," "bureau," "office," or "service" in the Department of the Treasury
38 with reference to its establishment from any Treasury Order (or otherwise) as it did with FinCEN in section 310(a).

39 The "only" mention of the IRS anywhere in 301-310 is at 301(f)(2) (see above) and the mention therein by Congress did
40 not create any office of the IRS within the Government of the United States.

NOTE: It must be outlined here that the US Code sources for revised section 301(f)(1) as listed under Title 31 > Subtitle I > Chapter 3 > Subchapter I > §301 are:

Congress repealed section 26:7801(b) with “Pub. L. 97-258, Sec. 5(b), Sept. 13, 1982, 96 Stat. 1068, 1078.”)

In fact, throughout Titles 5 and 31, the IRS is mentioned in the following statutes:

1. Title 5:

- 1.1. 5 U.S.C. §500(c)
- 1.2. 5 U.S.C. §9508(a)
- 1.3. 5 U.S.C. §9509(b)(1)(A)
- 1.4. 5 U.S.C. §9509(b)(2)
- 1.5. 5 U.S.C. §9509(c)
- 1.6. 5 U.S.C. §9510(a)(1)
- 1.7. 5 U.S.C. §9510(b)(1)
- 1.8. 5 U.S.C. §9510(c)
- 1.9. 5 U.S.C. §9510(d)
- 1.10. 5 U.S.C. §9510(e)(2)

2. Title 31:

- 2.1. 31 U.S.C. §301(f)(2)
- 2.2. 31 U.S.C. §330(c)(1)
- 2.3. 31 U.S.C. §713(a)

Yet with what has been provided in this Review with regards to what Congress did create in Title 31 sections 301-310, federal courts are erroneously ruling on this very issue of the IRS being an agency within the Department of the Treasury by falsely citing Section 301(a) of Title 31, which is where Congress created ONLY the Department of the Treasury with the full and complete context of section 301(a) is as follows for reiteration:

“The Department of the Treasury is an executive department of the United States Government at the seat of the Government.”

The federal courts are also using 26 U.S.C. §7801 - “Authority of the Department of the Treasury” at (a)(1) in their attempts to B.S. the American People into believing that Congress created the IRS when §7801(a) says no such thing as follows:

“Except as otherwise expressly provided by law, the administration and enforcement of this title shall be performed by or under the supervision of the Secretary of the Treasury.”

Anyone with eyes and a brain can plainly see and deduce that the IRS is not even mentioned by Congress in either 31 U.S.C. §301(a) or 26 U.S.C. §7801(a) even though federal courts fraudulently claim it is, and section 7801(a)(1) is the IRC itself. Any notion by the Courts that the Code itself created the IRS as an agency within or under the Department of the Treasury is not only absurd, but is considered willful criminal deception and outrageous miscarriages of justice!

4.2 Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA)

The Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCP) confirms that the IRS is not part of the U.S. Government. Congress, has seen fit to include the IRS as a “debt collector”²⁴, defined at 15 U.S.C. §1692a(6) of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA as amended by P.L. 104-208, 110 Stat. 3009, Sept. 30, 1996).

The FDCPA, however, does not encompass “any officer or employee of the United States” if collecting debts “is in the performance of his official duties.” (Quoting 15 U.S.C. §1692a(6)(C)).

TITLE 15 > CHAPTER 41 > SUBCHAPTER V > § 1692a
§ 1692a. Definitions

(6) The term “debt collector” means any person who uses any instrumentality of interstate commerce or the mails in any business the principal purpose of which is the collection of any debts, or who regularly collects or attempts to collect, directly or indirectly, debts owed or due or asserted to be owed or due another. Notwithstanding the exclusion provided by clause (F) of the last sentence of this paragraph, the term includes any creditor who, in the process of collecting his own debts, uses any name other than his own which would indicate that a third person is collecting or attempting to collect such debts. For the purpose of section 1692f \(6\) of this title, such term also includes any person who uses any instrumentality of interstate commerce or the mails in any business the principal purpose of which is the enforcement of security interests. The term does not include—

(C) any officer or employee of the United States or any State to the extent that collecting or attempting to collect any debt is in the performance of his official duties;

So, why then, did Congress include the IRS within the class of debt collectors covered under the FDCPA for unscrupulous and illegal debt collection practices? Because it is NOT a lawful Washington, D.C.-based agency of the United States Government!

To make things even worse, the U.S. Supreme Court has repeatedly held that “taxes” as legally defined are NOT “debts”. To wit:

In his work on the Constitution, the late Mr. Justice Story whose praise as a jurist is in all civilized lands, speaking of the clause in the Constitution giving to Congress the power to lay and collect taxes, says of the theory which would limit the power to the object of paying the debts that, thus limited, it would be only a power to provide for the payment of debts then existing. [Footnote 4] And certainly if a narrow and limited interpretation would thus restrict the word "debts" in the Constitution, the same sort of interpretation would in like manner restrict the same word in the act. Such an interpretation needs only to be mentioned to be rejected. We refer to it only to show that a right construction must be sought through larger and less technical views. We may, then, safely decline either to limit the word "debts" to existing dues, or to extend its meaning so as to embrace all dues of whatever origin and description.

What, then, is its true sense? The most obvious, and, as it seems to us, the most rational answer to this question is that Congress must have had in contemplation debts originating in ²⁴ See section 1102(d)(1)(G) of the IRS Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998 (PRA 98), P.L. No. 105-206, Sec. 1102, 112 Stat. 685, 697 (July 22, 1998). See also IR Code §6304 – ‘Fair tax collection practices’ provides prohibitions against harassment & abuse by the IRS in collection of taxes and cites §7433 – ‘Civil damages for certain unauthorized collection actions’ up to $1,000,000; and U.S. Treasury report found at <http://www.treas.gov/tigta/auditreports/2003reports/200310138fr.html> report on IRS violations of the FDCPA.

1 contract or demands carried into judgment, and only debts of this character. This is the 2 commonest and most natural use of the word. Some strain is felt upon the understanding when
3 an attempt is made to extend it so as to include taxes imposed by legislative authority, and there
4 should be no such strain in the interpretation of a law like this.

5 We are the more ready to adopt this view because the greatest of English elementary writers
6 upon law, when treating of debts in their various descriptions, gives no hint that taxes come
7 within either, [Footnote 5] while American state courts of the highest authority have refused
8 to treat liabilities for taxes as debts in the ordinary sense of that word, for which actions of 9 debt may be maintained.

10 The first of these cases was that of Pierce v. City of Boston, [Footnote 6] 1842, in which the 11 defendant attempted to set off against a demand of the plaintiff certain taxes due to the city. The 12 statute allowed mutual debts to be set off, but the court disallowed the right to set off taxes. This 13 case went, indeed, upon the construction of the statute of Massachusetts, and did not turn on the 14 precise point before us, but the language of the court shows that taxes were not regarded as 15 debts within the common understanding of the word.

16 The second case was that of Shaw v. Pickett, [Footnote 7] in which the Supreme Court of 17 Vermont said,

18 "The assessment of taxes does not create a debt that can be enforced by suit, or upon which a 19 promise to pay interest can be implied. It is a proceeding in invitum."

20 The next case was that of the City of Camden v. Allen, [Footnote 8] 1857. That was an action
21 of debt brought to recover a tax by the municipality to which it was due. The language of the 22 Supreme Court of New Jersey was still more explicit: "A tax, in its essential characteristics," 23 said the court, "is not a debt nor in the nature of a debt. A tax is an impost levied by authority
24 of government upon its citizens or subjects for the support of the state. It is not founded on 25 contract or agreement. It operates in invitum. A debt is a sum of money due by certain and 26 express agreement. It originates in and is founded upon contracts express or implied."

27 These decisions were all made before the acts of 1862 were passed, and they may have had 28 some influence upon the choice of the words used. Be this as it may, we all think that the 29 interpretation which they sanction is well warranted.

30 We cannot attribute to the legislature an intent to include taxes under the term debts without 31 something more than appears in the acts to show that intention.

32 The Supreme Court of California, in 1862, had the construction of these acts under 33 consideration in the case of Perry v. Washburn. [Footnote 9] The decisions which we have cited
34 were referred to by Chief Justice Field, now holding a seat on this bench, and the very question
35 we are now considering, "What did Congress intend by the act?" was answered in these words:

36 "Upon this question, we are clear that it only intended by the terms debts, public and private,
37 such obligations for the payment of money as are founded upon contract."

38 In whatever light, therefore, we consider this question, whether in the light of the conflict
39 between the legislation of Congress and the taxing power of the states, to which the 40 interpretation, insisted on in behalf of the County of Lane, would give occasion, or in the light 41 of the language of the acts themselves, or in the light of the decisions to which we have referred,
42 we find ourselves brought to the same conclusion, that the clause making the United States
43 notes a legal tender for debts has no reference to taxes imposed by state authority, but relates 44 only to debts in the ordinary sense of the word, arising out of simple contracts or contracts by 45 specialty, which include judgments and recognizances. [Footnote 10]

1 Whether the word "debts," as used in the act, includes obligations expressly made payable or
2 adjudged to be paid in coin has been argued in another case. We express at present, no opinion
3 on that question. [Footnote 11]

4 [Lane County v. Oregon, 74 U.S. 7 Wall. 71 71 (1868)]

5 If "taxes" as legally defined are not "debts", then by what authority at all can a liability be imputed or enforced by the IRS
6 to those who are alleged to be liable to pay them but who refuse to assess themselves with a liability? Only two answers to 7 that question are realistically possible:

- 8 1. Either what the IRS collects is NOT a "tax" as legally defined above and instead is a public officer kickback disguised
9 to LOOK like a lawful constitutional tax OR
- 10 2. The whole this is a fraud and your public dis-servants have been lying to you all these years because they love YOUR 11 money more than they love truth or justice.

12 4.3 1939 Internal Revenue Code

13 The 1939 Internal Revenue Code is the basis for the current Internal Revenue Code. All laws prior to that relating to 14 federal taxation were repealed by the Revenue Act of 1939. For proof of this fact, see 53 Stat. 1. Below is what it says
15 about Revenue Agents in the 1939 Code, in section 4000, 53 Stat. 489:

16 53 State 489
17 Revenue Act of 1939, 53 Stat. 489
18 Chapter 43: Internal Revenue Agents
19 Section 4000 Appointment

20 The Commissioner may, whenever in his judgment the necessities of the service so require,
21 employ competent agents, who shall be known and designated as internal revenue agents, and,
22 *except as provided for in this title, no general or special agent or inspector of the Treasury
23 Department in connection with internal revenue, by whatever designation he may be known,* 24 shall be appointed, commissioned, or employed.

25 "Competent agents"? What a joke! If they were "competent", then they would:

- 26 1. Know and follow the law and be fired if they didn't.
- 27 2. Work as an "employee" for a specific Congressman in the House of Representatives who was personally accountable
28 for their actions. "Taxation and representation" must coincide to preserve the original intent of the Constitution.

29 You can read the above statute yourself on the Family Guardian website at:

30 Revenue Act of 1939, 53 Stat. 1
31 <http://famguardian.org/CDs/LawCD/Federal/RevenueActs/Revenue%20Act%20of%201939.pdf>

32 If "Revenue Agents" are not "appointed, commissioned, or employed", then what exactly are they? I'll tell you what they 33 are: They are independent consultants who operate on commission. They get a commission from the property they steal
34 from the American People, and their stolen "loot" comes from the Department of Agriculture. See the following response
35 to a Freedom of Information Act request proving that IRS agents are paid by the Department of Agriculture:

36 <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Evidence/OrgAndDuties/USDAPaysIRS.pdf>

37 Why would the Congress NOT want to make Revenue Agents "appointed, commissioned, or employed"? Well, if they are 38 effectively STEALING property from the American People and if they are not connected in any way with the federal 39 government directly, have no statutory authority to exist under Title 26, and are not "employees", then the President of the 40 United States and all of his appointees in the Executive Branch cannot then be held personally liable for the acts and abuses
41 of these thieves. What politician in his right mind would want to jeopardize his career by being held accountable for a 42 mafia extortion ring whose only job is to steal money from people absent any legal authority?

4.4 Freedom of Information Act and Administrative Procedures Act

Congress did NOT intend for the IRS to be an “agency” of the United States Government as that term is legally defined in the Freedom of Information Act²⁵ or in the Administrative Procedures Act (APA)²⁶. If such were the case, Congress would have made it an “agency” as it did with each and every service, bureau, agency & office within §§301-310 of Title 31 U.S.C.. Congress excluded the IRS as an entity with any jurisdictional authority within the Department of the Treasury of the United States Government, as is the case with the governments of territories and possessions of the United States. See footnote 25.

Congress even further acknowledged this in the Internal Revenue Code with the definition of “Federal Agency”, by referencing the Freedom of Information Act’s definition therein.²⁷ Thus, the IRC as written by Congress confirms [i]ts intent to exclude the IRS as a federal agency within the Department of the Treasury.

4.5 Legal Definition of “Revenue Agent”

The only definition of “Revenue Agent” found anywhere in the U.S. Code or its implementing regulations confirms that IRS “Revenue Agents” may only operate in territories of the United States:

27 CFR §26.11: Meaning of terms

Revenue Agent. Any duly authorized Commonwealth Internal Revenue Agent of the Department of the Treasury of Puerto Rico.

5. Relationship of IRS to BATF

We have located the actual document which established the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Treasury Order 120-01, (a renumbering of DOT Order 221) which is entitled "Establishment of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms". TO 120-01 cites various functions and provisions of law which have been delegated to the BATF. In paragraph #2, section b, TO 120-01 states that Chapters 61 through 80, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code are delegated to BATF "insofar as they relate to the activities administered and enforced with respect to Chapters 51, 52 and 53;"

Chapters 61 through 80, also known as Subtitle F, of the Code, contain all of the "Procedures and Administration" statutes for filing returns, assessment, collection, interest, penalties, crimes, other offenses and forfeitures, and liability and enforcement of tax. Some of the sections found in Chapters 61 through 80 of Title 26, the Internal Revenue Code, sections which many people would recognize, are the following:

1. § 6001 ("Notice or regulations requiring records, statements and special returns");
2. § 6011 ("General requirement of return, statement or list")
3. § 6012 ("Persons required to make returns of income" (a, b and c are all cited in the "IRS" Form 1040 Instruction booklet as the government's authority to ask for information.)
4. § 6321 ("Lien for taxes")
5. § 6331 ("Levy and distraint")
6. § 7201 ("Attempt to evade or defeat tax")
7. § 7203 ("Willful failure to file return, supply information, or pay tax")

²⁶ See 5 U.S.C. §500(a)(1): “agency” has the meaning given it by section 551 of this title.” See also 31 U.S.C. §3901(a)(1) defining “agency” as found in 551(1) of title 5 U.S.C., 31 U.S.C. §720(a). See 18 U.S.C. §6 also.

²⁷ See 26 U.S.C. §6103(b)(9) defining “Federal agency” as follows: “The term “Federal agency” means an agency within the meaning of section 551(1) of title 5, United States Code.”

1 8. § 7321 ("Authority to seize property subject to forfeiture") (For more on this section, and how it appears only relevant
2 to BATF, see below.)

3 It is true that Chapters 51, 52 and 53 are entitled respectively "Distilled Spirits, Wines, and Beer", "Cigars, Cigarettes,
4 Smokeless Tobacco, Pipe Tobacco, and Cigarette Papers and Tubes", and "Machine Guns, Destructive Devices, and
5 Certain Other Firearms" - ie., Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms - which would seem to limit the authority of BATF relevant
6 to Subtitle F to alcohol, tobacco and firearms related "Procedures and Administration". However, we cannot find anywhere
7 a statute or regulation or any other document which delegates Chapters 61 through 80 of the Code to "Internal Revenue
8 Service". And since "the functions" of "IRS" were transferred to BATF by DOT Order 221 upon BATF's creation in 1972,
9 then it seems clear that all of the above-cited Procedures and Administration "functions" are under the jurisdiction of BATF
10 alone.

11 Furthermore, we have found that the only Privacy Act Systems of Records ("SOR") which claims Chapters 61 through 80
12 of the Code as its authority to maintain records on anyone is Treasury/ATF .003, entitled "Criminal Investigation Report 13 System - Treasury/ATF", which is maintained by BATF, not "IRS". SOR Treasury/ATF .003 covers such categories of 14 individuals as:

15 "(1) Criminal offenders or alleged criminal offenders acting alone or in concert with other
16 individuals and suspects who have been or are under investigation for a violation or suspected
17 violation of laws enforced by the Bureau." (2) Criminal offenders or alleged criminal offenders
18 acting alone or in concert with individuals who have been referred to the Bureau of Alcohol,
19 Tobacco and Firearms by other law enforcement agencies, governmental units and the general
20 public. (3) Informants. (4) Persons who come to the attention of the Bureau in the conduct of 21 criminal investigations...."

22 "IRS" maintains no SOR whatsoever which specifically claims Chapters 61 through 80 of the Code as its authority for 23 maintaining records, and which maintains such specific records on suspected, alleged or actual criminals. What seems to us
24 to be true is that all crimes which are committed relevant to Chapters 61 through 80 of the Code appear to actually be a
25 violation of BATF laws, and not "IRS" laws. See:

Internal Revenue Service (IRS), Systems of Records, Federal Register Vol. 66, pp. 63784 through 63875, SEDM Exhibit
#10.001
<http://sedm.org/Exhibits/ExhibitIndex.htm>

26 In addition, 27 CFR §70.11 also states that Subtitle F is delegated to be enforced and administered by BATF, "as it relates 27 to any of the foregoing."

28 The words "the foregoing" in 27 CFR §70.11, which is a section entitled "Meaning of terms", refer to the following terms:
29 Person; lien; levy; enforced collection; electronic fund transfer; Director (BATF); Commercial Bank; Chief, Tax Processing
30 Center; Code of Federal Regulations; Bureau; ATF Officer. So 27 CFR §70.11 is stating that BATF has been delegated the 31 authority of Subtitle F as it relates to liens, levies, enforced collection (ie, seizure and forfeiture) - activities which one
32 generally associates with "IRS". Again, we can find no such delegation of authority to "IRS" which relates to such 33 activities. This regulation further appears to make it clear that it is really BATF which is liening, levying and seizing
34 property, even when it appears that "IRS" is doing these things.

35 Most significant of all in this conclusion that we have reached that it appears that it is always BATF which is masquerading
36 as "IRS" when "IRS" is liening, levying and seizing property, is the following: 26 U.S.C. §7321 is the section of the 37 Internal Revenue Code entitled: "Authority to Seize Property Subject to Forfeiture". It states:

38 "Any property subject to forfeiture to the United States under any provision of this title may be 39 seized by the Secretary."

40 Then, in the implementing regulation, 26 CFR §301.7321-1, entitled "Seizure of Property", is stated the following:

41 "Any property subject to forfeiture to the United States under any provision of the Code may be 42 seized by the district director or assistant regional commissioner (alcohol, tobacco and 43 firearms). Upon seizure of property by the district director he shall notify the assistant regional

1 commissioner (alcohol, tobacco and firearms) for the region wherein the district is located who 2 will take charge of the property and arrange for its disposal or retention under the provisions of
3 law and regulations applicable thereto." (Emphasis added.)

4 The above statute and regulation plainly reveal that all property which is seized under any provision of Title 26, whether it
5 be by the district director or the assistant regional commissioner (alcohol, tobacco and firearms) - all property which is 6 seized by IRS is then handed over to the assistant regional commissioner (alcohol, tobacco and firearms), who "arrang(es)
7 for its disposal and retention...."

8 Why is all property seized by "IRS" - "under any provision of Title 26", which would, of course, include Subtitle A,
9 "Income Taxes" - much of it having to do with alleged violations of "income tax" laws, and ostensibly having nothing
10 whatsoever to do with alcohol, tobacco or firearms taxes - seized by the District Director, and then handed over to this
11 mysterious Assistant Regional Commissioner (Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms), who clearly appears to be either an official
12 of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, or perhaps an official relevant only to Chapters 51, 52 and 53 of the 13 Internal Revenue Code? It could only be because somehow all of the laws in Chapters 61 through 80, including the seizure
14 and forfeiture laws of the IRC, are relevant only to BATF taxes.

15 The IRS-BATF connection is also confirmed by the regulations implementing Internal Revenue Code. All of the seizure
16 and forfeiture statutes have their implementing regulations under 27 CFR, not 26 CFR, confirming that these seizures may 17 only be accomplished by the BATF and not the IRS. 1 CFR §21.21(c) requires that no agency may use the regulations of 18 another agency. If the IRS were an agency separate and distinct from the BATF, it would have its own regulations for 19 enforcement but it doesn't.

30 order or reorganization plan."

31 Also in Treasury Order (T.O. 120-01 (dated 6/6/72) is a reference to the term "Director, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms
32 Division" - the same term which was renamed "Internal Revenue Service" according to the Federal Register of 9/15/76.
33 (See above.) TO 120-01 states:

43 to the directions, instructions or orders of, the Secretary."

44 The above statements - aside from being extremely circular and difficult to follow - appear to be revealing that the official
45 known as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is actually the same person and office as the Director, Alcohol, Tobacco
46 and Firearms Division (who was renamed "Internal Revenue Service" according to the Federal Register, Volume 41, 47 Wednesday, September 15th, 1976) and that the officials known as "internal revenue officer" and "officer, employee or

1 agent of the internal revenue" are actually enforcing BATF laws. For further exploration of this, see the definition of 2 "Revenue Agent" below.

3 TO 120-01 goes on to state:

4 "There shall be transferred to the Bureau all positions, personnel, records, property, and
5 unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds of the Alcohol, Tobacco
6 and Firearms Division of the Internal Revenue Service, including those of the Assistant
7 Regional Commissioners (Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms), Internal Revenue Service."

8 Commissioner Richardson - the Assistant Regional Commissioner (Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms) is apparently the same
9 official named in 26 CFR §301.7321-1, who "takes charge" of all property seized by "IRS" and "arranges for its disposal."

10 What is even more bizarre is this: after all the property seized by "IRS" is handed over by the District Director to this
11 mysterious Assistant Regional Commissioner (alcohol, tobacco and firearms), the remission or mitigation of forfeitures
12 relevant to the Internal Revenue Code (Title 26) and its regulations (26 CFR) is governed by the customs laws which are 13 applicable to remission or mitigation of penalties as contained in Title 19 USC - Customs - Sections 1613 and 1618.
14 Sections 1613 and 1618 of Title 19 fall under Chapter 4, which is relevant to the enforcement of the provisions of the Tariff
15 Act of 1930. Why are sections of the customs laws which govern the enforcement of the Tariff Act of 1930 the only laws
16 which are cited to be used to remit or mitigate forfeitures of property which has been seized by "IRS" and then handed over 17 to a BATF official? More simply: If our property were seized by "IRS", why would we be forced to use Customs laws to 18 attempt to get it back?

19 Returning to the above cite from 27 CFR §201, concerning the Federal Alcohol Administration, it is obvious that some 20 entity with the present name "Internal Revenue Service" used to be known as the "Bureau of Internal Revenue." And we 21 find that renaming confirmed in Treasury Order 150-06, dated July 9th, 1953, entitled "Designation as Internal Revenue
22 Service," which states in paragraph #1:

23 "The Bureau of Internal Revenue shall hereafter be known as the Internal Revenue Service."

24 So where did this "Bureau of Internal Revenue" which was then renamed "Internal Revenue Service" originate? The only 25 place we can find any reference whatsoever to the creation of a "Bureau of Internal Revenue" is in Article I of the 26 Philippine Commission Act, Act No. 1189, dated 1904, which states in Section 2:

27 "There shall be established a Bureau of Internal Revenue, the chief officer of which shall be 28 known as the Collector of Internal Revenue. He shall be appointed by the Civil Governor, with 29 advice and consent of the Philippine Commission, and shall receive a salary at the rate of eight 30 thousand pesos per annum.

31 "The Bureau of Internal Revenue shall belong to the Department of Finance and Justice."

32 Does this mean that the Bureau of Internal Revenue established in the Philippines in 1904 [is] the same Bureau of Internal 33 Revenue which was renamed "Internal Revenue Service" in Treasury Order 150-06? And, if not, what is the statutory origin
34 of the Bureau of Internal Revenue which is cited in TO 150-06? And since the Bureau of Internal Revenue established in 35 the Philippines in 1904 belonged at that time to the Department of Finance and Justice, if it is the Bureau of Internal 36 Revenue which was renamed "Internal Revenue Service" and is now found in the Department of the Treasury, how was it 37 transferred from the former department to the latter, and when?

38 6. IRS Form 1040 is for federal territories and possessions, not Union states

39 In addition, we have uncovered the following: Form 1040 is entitled "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return", which would 40 indicate that it is a form to [be] filed by a "U.S. Individual." 26 CFR §1.6017-1(a)(1), dealing with "Self-Employment tax 41 returns", states the following:

1 "an individual who is a resident of the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, or (for any taxable year
2 beginning after 1960) Guam or American Samoa is not to be considered a nonresident alien
3 individual."

4 26 CFR §1.6017-1(a)(2) states:

5 "Except as otherwise provided in this subparagraph, the return required by this section shall be 6 made on Form 1040. The form to be used by residents of the Virgin Islands, Guam, or American
7 Samoa is Form 1040SS...."

8 Internal Revenue Publication 676 states that Form 1040 SS is a "Self-Employment Tax Return." But the above section
9 states that the return required "under this section shall be made on Form 1040." It would appear, therefore, that an 10 "individual" is actually a resident of the Virgin Islands (or Puerto Rico, or, before 1960, Guam or American Samoa). This is 11 arguably one plausible reason why the Transaction Code 150, indicating that a Virgin Islands return has been filed, is 12 posted to the Virgin Islands transcript IMF when a Form 1040 or SFR are filed. See:

IRS Publication 676

13 7. No Internal Revenue Districts within States of the Union

14 The Internal Revenue Code itself defines and limits the terms "United States" and "State" to include only the District of 15 Columbia. Nowhere does the term expressly include any state of the Union. Consequently, the 50 states of the Union are 16 purposefully excluded in the Internal Revenue Code's definition of "United States".

19 (a) When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible
20 with the intent thereof—

21 (9) United States

22 The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the

24 \(10\) State

25 The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such 26 construction is necessary to carry out provisions of this title.

27 26 U.S.C. §7601 limits and defines enforcement of the Internal Revenue Code and discovery related to the enforcement
28 only within the bounds of internal revenue districts. Any evidence gathered by the IRS outside the District of Columbia is 29 UNLAWFULLY obtained and in violation of this statute, and therefore inadmissible. See Weeks v. United States, 232 U.S.
30 383 (1914), which says that evidence unlawfully obtained is INADMISSIBLE.

31 26 U.S.C. §7621 authorizes the President of the United States to define the boundaries of all internal revenue districts. The

33 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 78 > Subchapter B > § 7621
34 § 7621. Internal revenue districts

35 (a) Establishment and alteration

1 The President shall establish convenient internal revenue districts for the purpose of 2 administering the internal revenue laws. The President may from time to time alter such 3 districts.

4 (b) Boundaries

5 For the purpose mentioned in subsection (a), the President may subdivide any State, or the 6 District of Columbia, or may unite into one district two or more States.

7 By properly applying 26 U.S.C. §7621, we have conclusive, incontrovertible proof that the Internal Revenue Code is 8 lawfully applicable only to the District of Columbia and the federal STATES (U.S. territories and U.S. possessions), such 9 as Puerto Rico and Guam, to name just two.

10 And the proof lies in the fact that the U.S.A. Constitution, which is the Supreme Law of the Land and is of a higher dignity
11 than the Internal Revenue Code, makes it very clear in Article 4, Sec. 3, Cl. 1, that new Union State may be formed within 12 the jurisdiction of another Union State and that no new Union State may be formed by combining it with another Union
13 State, without first getting the prior consent of the State Legislatures and the U.S. Congress.

14 Now, within the federal zone, which is comprised of the District of Columbia, the U.S. territories and U.S. possessions, the 15 President of the United States serves as the Chief Magisterial Officer.

16 The USA Constitution does not grant the President the legal authority to merge two or more Union states. By contrast, 26
17 U.S.C. §7621 does grant the President the authority to subdivide any (federal) State.

18 And since in the hierarchy of Law the Constitution is superior to the Internal Revenue Code, and the Code gives the 19 President to subdivide States, this can only mean that the so –called “States” referenced in 26 U.S.C. §7621 only refer to 20 the federal “States” as per 26 U.S.C. §7701 (a) (9) and (a) (10), Any other conclusion would be illogical and absurd.

21 Neither the President nor his delegate, the Secretary of the Treasury, may establish internal revenue districts outside of the 22 “United States”, which is then defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and (a)(10), 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(39\), and [26 U.S.C.
23 §7408\(d\)](#) to mean ONLY the District of Columbia. This restriction is a result of the fact that the Constitution in Article 4, 24 Section 3, Clause 2 only authorizes Congress to write rules and regulations for the territory and other property of the United 25 States, and states of the Union are not “territory” of the United States:

26 *"Territories' or 'territory' as including 'state' or 'states.'" While the term 'territories of the'
27 United States may, under certain circumstances, include the states of the Union, as used in the 28 federal Constitution and in ordinary acts of congress "territory" does not include a foreign 29 state.
30 [86 C.J.S. [Corpus, Juris, Secundum, Legal Encyclopedia], Territories, §1]*

31 Congress cannot delegate to the President or the Secretary an authority within states of the Union that it does not have.
32 Congress has NO LEGISLATIVE JURISDICTION within a state of the Union.

34 Dagenhart, 247 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no
35 inherent power in respect of the internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with 36 regard to legislation."
37 Carter v. Carter Coal Co., [298 U.S. 238, 56 S.Ct. 855 (1936)]*

38 Treasury Order No. 150-02 abolished all internal revenue districts except that of the District of Columbia. For proof, see:

39 Treasury Order 150-02, Exhibit #04.014 40 http://sedm.org/Exhibits/ExhibitIndex.htm

41 Whether or not internal revenue districts have been established in states of the Union is a significant issue as the delegate of 42 the Secretary has canvassing and other examination authority solely within internal revenue districts. See 26 U.S.C. §7601
43 and 26 CFR §601.101. If there are no internal revenue districts in states of the Union, the delegate of the Secretary does not

1 have lawful authority to canvass and conduct examination functions within states of the Union. It follows that if there are
2 no internal revenue districts in states of the Union, then all enforcement efforts that reach beyond geographical bounds of 3 these districts are beyond lawful authority, whether the Internal Revenue Service is delegate of the Secretary of the 4 Treasury for purposes of 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(12)(A) or not.

5 If you would like to inquire about the boundaries of the nonexistent districts mentioned in this section, please refer to IRS
6 Document 6295, available from the IRS at 800-829-3676.

7 8. Why the IRS Has NO Enforcement Authority Within States of the Union

8 The federal government enjoys NO legislative jurisdiction on land within the exterior limits of a state of the Union that is 9 not its own territory. Several important authorities for this fact are as follows:

- 10 1. The U.S. Supreme Court has stated repeatedly that the United States federal government is without ANY legislative 11 jurisdiction within the exterior boundaries of a sovereign state of Union:

12 "The difficulties arising out of our dual form of government and the opportunities for differing 13 opinions concerning the relative rights of state and national governments are many; but for a 14 very long time this court has steadfastly adhered to the doctrine that the taxing power of 15 Congress does not extend to the states or their political subdivisions. The same basic 16 reasoning which leads to that conclusion, we think, requires like limitation upon the power
17 which springs from the bankruptcy clause. United States v. Butler, supra."

*"It is no longer open to question that the general government, unlike the states, Hammer v.
21 *Dagenhart, 247 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no
22 inherent power in respect of the internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with 23 regard to legislation."*
24 *Carter v. Carter Coal Co., [298 U.S. 238, 56 S.Ct. 855 (1936)]

26 If you meet with someone from the IRS, ask them whether the Internal Revenue Code qualifies as "legislation" within 27 the meaning of the above rulings. Tell them you aren't interested in court cases because judges cannot make law or 28 create jurisdiction where none exists.

- 29 2. 40 U.S.C. §3112 creates a presumption that the United States government does not have jurisdiction unless it 30 specifically accepts jurisdiction over lands within the exterior limits of a state of the Union:

31 TITLE 40 - PUBLIC BUILDINGS, PROPERTY, AND WORKS
32 SUBTITLE II - PUBLIC BUILDINGS AND WORKS

5 3. The Uniform Commercial Code defines the term “United States” as the District of Columbia:

6 Uniform Commercial Code (U.C.C.)
7 § 9-307. LOCATION OF DEBTOR.

8 (h) [Location of United States.]

11 <http://www.law.cornell.edu/ucc/search/display.html?terms=district%20of%20columbia&url=/ucc/9/article9.htm#s9-307>]

13 4. Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17 of the Constitution expressly limits the territorial jurisdiction of the federal government
14 to the ten square mile area known as the District of Columbia. Extensions to this jurisdiction arose at the signing of the 15 Treaty of Peace between the King of Spain and the United States in Paris France, which granted to the United States
16 new territories such as Guam, Cuba, the Philippines, etc.

17 5. The Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A places the income tax primarily upon a “trade or business”. A “trade or 18 business” as used within the Internal Revenue Code is a “word of art” and is defined ONLY as the “functions of a 19 public office” in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\). See:

The “Trade or Business” Scam, Form #05.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

20 6. 4 U.S.C. §72 limits the exercise of all “public offices” and the application of their laws to the District of Columbia and 21 NOT elsewhere except as expressly provided by Congress.

22 TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 3 > §72
23 § 72. Public offices; at seat of Government

24 All offices attached to the seat of government shall be exercised in the District of Columbia, and 25 not elsewhere, except as otherwise expressly provided by law.

26 7. One of the key words in 4 U.S.C. § 72 is the word “expressly.” When Congress extends the authority of any office or 27 officer of the United States outside “the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere,” Congress will do it by “expressly”
28 extending the Secretary’s authority and by leaving no doubt that said authority has been extended by Congress to a
29 particular geographical area outside “the District of Columbia.” The definition of “expressly” from Black’s Law
30 Dictionary, 6th Ed. is as follows:

31 “expressly. In an express manner; in direct and unmistakable terms; explicitly; definitely;
32 *directly. St. Louis Union Trust Co. v. Hill, 336 Mo. 17, 76 S.W.2d. 685, 689. The opposite of
34 added)

35 8. The U.S. Supreme Court expressly held that Congress may not establish a “trade or business”, and by implication a 36 “public office”, in a state of the Union and tax it.

38 License Tax Cases, [72 U.S. 462, 18 L.Ed. 497, 5 Wall. 462, 2 A.F.T.R. 2224 (1866)]

39 9. The Supreme Court agrees that all jurisdiction must be conferred by Congress and not by the judiciary or “judge made 40 law”:

41 “Official powers cannot be extended beyond the terms and necessary implications of the grant.
42 If broader powers be desirable, they must be conferred by Congress.”

1 [Federal Trade Commission v. Raladam Co., 283 U.S. 643, 51 S.Ct. 587 (1931)(Emphasis
2 added)]

- 3 10. The IRS and the DOJ have been repeatedly asked for the statute which “expressly extends” the “public office” that is 4 the subject of the tax upon “trade or business” activities within states of the Union. NO ONE has been able to produce
5 such a statute because IT DOESN’T EXIST. There is no provision of law which “expressly extends” the enforcement
6 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code to any state of the Union. Therefore, IRS jurisdiction does not exist there.

7 “Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the 8 expression of one thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169

10 *thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or things are specified in a law,
11 contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be inferred. Under* 12 this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects 13 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded.”

14 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

- 15 10.1. 48 U.S.C. §1612 and 48 U.S.C. §1397 expressly extend the enforcement of the criminal provisions of the Internal 16 Revenue Code to the Virgin Islands and is the only enactment of Congress that extends enforcement of any part 17 of the Internal Revenue Code to any place outside the District of Columbia.

- 18 10.2. 48 U.S.C. §1421i extends the internal revenue laws to Guam.

- 19 10.3. 48 U.S.C. §1801 extends the revenue laws to the Northern Mariana Islands.

- 20 11. The U.S. Supreme Court commonly refers to states of the Union as “foreign states”. To wit:

21 We have held, upon full consideration, that although under existing statutes a circuit court of 22 *the United States has jurisdiction upon habeas corpus to discharge from the custody of state
23 officers or tribunals one restrained of his liberty in violation of the Constitution of the United* 24 States, it is not required in every case to exercise its power to that end immediately upon
25 application being made for the writ. ‘We cannot suppose,’ this court has said, ‘that Congress 26 intended to compel those courts, by such means, to draw to themselves, in the first instance, the 27 control of all criminal prosecutions commenced in state courts exercising authority within the 28 same territorial limits, where the accused claims that he is held in custody in violation of the 29 Constitution of the United States. The injunction to hear the case summarily, and thereupon ‘to

31 discretion as to the time and mode in which it will exert the powers conferred upon it. That 32 discretion should be exercised in the light of the relations existing, under our system of

34 the fact that the public good requires that those relations be not disturbed by unnecessary

12. The Federal Register Act, 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\), and the Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\) both require that when a federal agency wishes to enforce any provision of statutory law within a state of the Union, it must write proposed implementing regulations, publish them in the Federal Register, and thereby give the public opportunity for “notice and comment”. Notice also that 44 U.S.C. §1508 says that the Federal Register is the official method for providing “notice” of laws that will be enforced in “States of the Union”. There are no implementing regulations authorizing the enforcement of any provision of the Internal Revenue Code within any state of the Union, and therefore it cannot be enforced against the general public domiciled within states of the Union. 13. Various provisions of law indicate that when implementing regulations authorizing enforcement have NOT been published in the Federal Register, then the statutes cited as authority may NOT prescribe a penalty or adversely affect rights protected by the Constitution of the United States:

TITLE 5 > PART I > CHAPTER 5 > SUBCHAPTER II > § 552
§ 552. Public information; agency rules, opinions, orders, records, and proceedings§ 1508.
Publication in Federal Register as notice of hearing

Except to the extent that a person has actual and timely notice of the terms thereof, a person may not in any manner be required to resort to, or be adversely affected by, a matter required to be published in the Federal Register and not so published. For the purpose of this paragraph, matter reasonably available to the class of persons affected thereby is deemed published in the Federal Register when incorporated by reference therein with the approval of the Director of the Federal Register.

26 CFR §601.702 Publication and public inspection

*(a)(2)(ii) Effect of failure to publish. Except to the extent that a person has actual and timely notice of the terms of any matter referred to in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph which is required to be published in the Federal Register, such person is not required in any manner to resort to, or be adversely affected by, such matter if it is not so published or is not incorporated by reference therein pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph. Thus, for example, any such matter which imposes an obligation and which is not so published or incorporated by reference will not adversely change or affect a person's rights.

14. 44 U.S.C. §1505(a) and 5 U.S.C. §553(a) both indicate that the only case where an enactment of the Congress can be enforced DIRECTLY against persons domiciled in states of the Union absent implementing regulations is for those groups specifically exempted from the requirement. These groups include:
- 14.1. A military or foreign affairs function of the United States. 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\)\(1\).
 - 14.2. A matter relating to agency management or personnel or to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contracts. 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\)\(2\).
 - 14.3. Federal agencies or persons in their capacity as officers, agents, or employees thereof. 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\).
15. The Internal Revenue Code itself defines and limits the term “United States” to include only the District of Columbia and nowhere expands the term to include any state of the Union. Consequently, states of the Union are not included.

TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701.

1 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

2 (a)(9) United States

3 The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the
4 District of Columbia.

5 (a)(10) State

6 The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such 7 construction is necessary to carry out provisions of this title.

- 8 16. 26 U.S.C. §7601 limits and defines enforcement of the Internal Revenue Code and discovery related to the enforcement
9 only within the bounds of internal revenue districts. Any evidence gathered by the IRS outside the District of 10 Columbia is UNLAWFULLY obtained and in violation of this statute, and therefore inadmissible. See Weeks v.
11 United States, 232 U.S. 383 (1914), which says that evidence unlawfully obtained is INADMISSIBLE.
- 12 17. 26 U.S.C. §7621 authorizes the President of the United States to define the boundaries of all internal revenue districts.
13 17.1. The President delegated that authority to the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to Executive Order 10289.
14 17.2. Neither the President nor his delegate, the Secretary of the Treasury, may establish internal revenue districts
15 outside of the "United States", which is then defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10), 26 U.S.C.
16 §7701(a)(39), and 26 U.S.C. §7408(d) to mean ONLY the District of Columbia. This restriction is a result of the 17 fact that the Constitution in Article 4, Section 3, Clause 2 only authorizes Congress to write rules and regulations
18 for the territory and other property of the United States, and states of the Union are not "territory" of the United 19 States:

20 "Territories' or 'territory' as including 'state' or 'states.'" While the term 'territories of the 21 United States may, under certain circumstances, include the states of the Union, as used in the
23 state.

24 [86 C.J.S. [Corpus, Juris, Secundum, Legal Encyclopedia], Territories, §1]

- 25 17.3. Congress cannot delegate to the President or the Secretary an authority within states of the Union that it does not
26 have. Congress has NO LEGISLATIVE JURISDICTION within a state of the Union.

28 Dagenhart, 247 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no
29 inherent power in respect of the internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with 30 regard to legislation."

31 [Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238, 56 S.Ct. 855 (1936)]

- 32 18. Treasury Order No. 150-02 abolished all internal revenue districts except that of the District of Columbia.
33 19. IRS is delegate of the Secretary in insular possessions, as "delegate" is defined at 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(12)(B), but NOT 34 in states of the Union.

35 Based on all the above authorities:

- 36 1. The word "INTERNAL" in the phrase "INTERNAL Revenue Service" means INTERNAL to the federal government
37 or the federal zone. This includes people OUTSIDE the federal zone but who have a domicile there, such as citizens
38 and residents abroad coming under a tax treaty with a foreign country, pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §911. It DOES NOT 39 include persons domiciled in states of the Union. See:

Why Domicile and Income Taxes are Voluntary, Form #05.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 40 2. The U.S. Supreme Court has confirmed that there is no basis to believe that any part of the federal government enjoys
41 any legislative jurisdiction within any state of the Union, including in its capacity as a lawmaker for the general
42 government. This was confirmed by one attorney who devoted his life to the study of Constitutional law below:

1 “§79. [. . .] There cannot be two separate and independent sovereignties within the same limits
2 or jurisdiction; nor can there be two distinct and separate sources of sovereign authority within 3 the same jurisdiction. The right of commanding in the last resort can be possessed only by one 4 body of people inhabiting the same territory,' and can be executed only by those intrusted with 5 the execution of such authority.”

8 Our public dis-servants have tried to systematically destroy this separation using a combination of LIES,
9 PROPAGANDA in unreliable government publications, and the abuse of “words of art” in the void for vagueness
10 “codes” they write in order to hunt and trap and enslave you like an animal.

11 But this is a people robbed and plundered;
12 All of them are snared in [legal] holes, [by the sophistry of rebellious public “servant”

14 And they are hidden in prison houses;
15 They are for prey, and no one delivers;
16 For plunder, and no one says, “Restore!”
17 Who among you will give ear to this?
18 Who will listen and hear for the time to come?
19 Who gave Jacob [Americans] for plunder, and Israel [America] to the robbers?
20 Was it not the LORD,
21 He against whom we have sinned?
22 For they would not walk in His ways,
23 Nor were they obedient to His law.
24 Therefore He has poured on him the fury of His anger
25 And the strength of battle;
26 It has set him on fire all around,
27 Yet he did not know;
28 And it burned him,
29 Yet he did not take it to heart.
30 [Isaiah 42:22-25, Bible, NKJV]

31 As conclusively proven herein, the United States Government is a voracious LIAR and PREDATOR. The Congress, 32 the phantom IRS, and the corrupt Department of Justice, has repeatedly lied to and falsely imprisoned thousands of 33 American’s over the past 90+ years. Wake up people! If you want to know what your public servants have done and 34 are doing, to systematically disobey and destroy the central tenets of the Constitution, and destroy your rights in the 35 process, read the following expose:

- 38 3. The PROPAGANDA you read on the IRS website that contradicts the content of this section honestly (for ONCE!)
39 identifies itself as the equivalent of BUTT WIPE that isn’t worth the paper it is printed on and which you can’t and 40 shouldn’t believe. This BUTT WIPE, incidentally, includes ALL the IRS publications and forms:

41 “IRS Publications, issued by the National Office, explain the law in plain language for 42 taxpayers and their advisors... While a good source of general information, publications should 43 not be cited to sustain a position.”

- 45 4. If you want to know what constitutes a “reasonable source of belief” about federal jurisdiction in the context of 46 taxation, please see the following. Note that it concludes that you CAN’T trust anything a tax professional or 47 government employee or even court below the Supreme Court says on the subject of taxes, and this conclusion is based 48 on the findings of the courts themselves!

9. Civil Service Status of IRS Employees

Relevant to the creation of and existence of an agency of office, at the state level, it is a well-acknowledged and accepted rule that a duly constituted office of the state government must be created either by the state constitution itself, or else by some specific legislative act; see the following: (All emphasis added).

Patton v. Bd. Of Health, 127 Cal. 388, 393, 59 P. 702, 704 (1899) - "One of the requisites is that the office must be created by the constitution of the state or it must be authorized by some statute."

1 An excerpt from a classified report prepared by the U.S. Government on the history of the IRS says the following about the
2 civil service status of IRS employees:

3 D. Civil Service Status of Employees .

4 None of the officials appointed by the President with the advice and consult of the senate are 5 civil service employees. These include the Commissioner, the two assistant commissioners, the 6 special Deputy Commissioner, the Assistant General Counsel for the Bureau of Internal 7 Revenue and all collectors of internal revenue .

8 Under the terms of the Overman Act of 1913 deputy collectors of internal revenue were not 9 covered by the civil service laws, and by 1939 practically all of the positions in the offices of the 10 collectors were classified as deputy collectors. Accordingly, there were very few, civil service
11 employees on the collectors' staffs . The employees of the internal revenue agents on the other 12 hand are almost entirely civil service employees .

13 In 1934 the Civil Service Commission contended that clerks and other employees in the offices
14 of the collectors should not be deputy collectors appointed outside the civil service. The 15 Commissioner argued that the practice of the collectors was authorized by the Overman Act.
16 On September 13, 1934 Mr. Oliphant, then General Counsel of the Treasury, wrote an opinion
17 in which he concluded that it was not the intention of Congress that clerical help in collectors'
18 offices be appointed deputy collectors, and thus be exempted from civil service requirements. It

20 In 1940 Congress authorized the President to issue executive orders covering into the civil 21 service any offices or positions in the Executive branch. of the Government with certain 22 specified exceptions . There were no exceptions affecting the Bureau of Internal Revenue, 23 except that the executive orders could not affect officials appointed by the President with the 24 advice and consent of the Senate.

25 On April 23, 1941 the President issued Executive Order 8743, which covered into the classified
26 civil service all government employees not so covered, with certain state exceptions. Positions
27 excepted from the classified civil service under Schedules A and B of the Civil Service Rules
28 were not covered, by the Executive Order. These schedules make only one reference to 29 employees of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which is as follows:

30 “ special employees for temporary detective work in the field service of the Bureau of 31 Internal Revenue under the appropriation for detecting and bringing to trial and punishment
32 persons violating the internal revenue laws. Appointment under this paragraph shall be limited 33 to persons whose services are required because of individual knowledge of violations of the 34 law, and such appointments shall be continued only so long as the personal knowledge 35 *possessed by the appointee of such violation makes his service necessary. * * ”

36 Accordingly, all positions in the Bureau of Internal Revenue, including deputy collectors, are 37 now covered into the classified civil service with the exception of those officials appointed by

41 10. Can the IRS use the Treasury Seal?

42 31 U.S.C. §333 makes it a federal crime to misuse or misrepresent the Treasury seal. The seal that the IRS uses is NOT the 43 Treasury Seal, even though it looks similar. The IRS seals are published in the Federal Register and they do not look like 44 the Treasury seals.

11. What the Courts Say About IRS Authority

Citing irrelevant statutes, even repeatedly by the courts, will not create the IRS as an agency within the Department of the Treasury. Only an act of Congress can do that and it has chosen not to do that as of the date of publication of this document in 2008 A.D.

11.1 U.S. Supreme Court

The 1979 United States Supreme Court's decision²⁸ confirmed these facts in Chrysler Corp. v. Brown, 441 U.S. 281, at FN 23, which reads:

[Footnote 23] “There was virtually no Washington bureaucracy created by the Act of July 1, 1862, ch. 119, 12 Stat. 432, the statute to which the present Internal Revenue Service can be traced. Researchers report that during the Civil War 85% of the operations of the Bureau of Internal Revenue were carried out in the field - “including the assessing and collection of taxes, the handling of appeals, and punishment for frauds” - and this balance of responsibility was not generally upset until the 20th century. L. Schmeckebier & F. Eble, The Bureau of Internal Revenue 8, 40-43 (1923). Agents had the power to enter any home or business establishment to look for taxable property and examine books of accounts. Information was collected and processed in the field. It is, therefore, not surprising to find that congressional comments during this period focused on potential abuses by agents in the field and not on breaches of confidentiality by a Washington-based bureaucracy.”

11.2 Federal Circuit Courts

The Supreme Court's research in Chrysler described in the previous section was confirmed 14 years later by United States Government Attorneys, in the case of Diversified Metal Products Inc. v. T-Bow Co. Trust, Internal Revenue Service, & Steve Morgan, Civil No. 93-405-E-EJL in the U.S. District Court, 7th Cir. (Dist. Idaho). An attorney named John M. Ohman of Idaho Falls, Idaho, filed an impleader action on behalf of Diversified Metal Products. In his complaint of stipulated facts, at ¶ 4 he averred as follows:

“Defendant Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is an agency of the United States government(tm)”

The courts fraudulently claim the “Secretary of the Treasury authorizes the Commissioner of Internal revenue to administer and enforce the Internal Revenue laws; notes that the Internal Revenue Service is a division of the Department of the Treasury”

[Quoting 10th Cir. 1992 No. 91-2109]

. . .but NEVER specifically cites any delegation of authority by the Secretary and always cites an inapplicable section of the Title 31 in hopes that the American people will not take notice.

In 1988, an IRS employee sued the IRS Commissioner for civil rights violations and the Sixth Circuit court of federal appeals dismissed the case because the Commissioner was not the proper party because not a “department”, “agency”, or “unit” within the government:

Section 2000e-16(c) of Title 42 mandates who may be a proper defendant in civil actions brought by federal employees to enforce rights under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, ²⁸ Reliance on Supreme Court decisions “requires people in their everyday affairs be able to rely on our decisions and not be needlessly penalized for such reliance. Cf. Flood v. Kuhn, 407 US 258, 283 (1972); Wallace v. M’Connell, 13 Pet. 136, 150 (1839).” Quoting U.S. v. Mason, 412 U.S. 391, pp. 399-400 (1973).

1 as amended, the Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972. That section provides that "the
2 head of the department, agency, or unit, as appropriate, shall be the defendant." (emphasis
3 added). For the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service to be a proper defendant,
4 therefore, we would have to conclude that the Internal Revenue Service is either a
5 "department," "agency," or "unit." Resolution of this issue is purely a question of statutory 6 interpretation.

7 The terms "department," "agency," and "unit," found in § 2000e-16(c), are defined in 8 subsection (a) of § 2000e-16. Congress clearly intended these definitions found in subsection
9 (a) to be incorporated into the mandatory requirements of subsection (c). Accordingly,
10 "department" is defined in subsection (a) as "military departments as defined in § 102 of Title
11 V." Certainly, the Internal Revenue Service does not fit within the definition of a military 12 department. In subsection (a), "unit" is defined as "those units of the Government of the 13 District of Columbia having positions in the competitive service, and . . . those units of the 14 legislative and judicial branches of the Federal Government having positions in the 15 competitive service." It is without question that the Internal Revenue Service does not fit this 16 definition and, therefore, cannot be characterized as a "unit."

17 Plaintiff's only remaining recourse is to argue that the Internal Revenue Service is an "agency"
18 within the meaning of § 2000e-16(c). This term is defined, however, in subsection (a) as 19 "executive agencies as defined in § 105 of Title V." "Executive agencies" are defined in 5 U.S.C.
20 § 105 (1970) as "an Executive Department, a Government corporation, [or] an independent
21 establishment." Only if the Internal Revenue Service qualifies as an "executive department," a 22 "government corporation" or an "independent establishment" can it be defined as an "agency"
23 within the meaning of subsection (a) of § 2000e-16. Section 101 of 5 U.S.C. (1970) defines 24 "Executive department" by listing the eleven cabinet-level departments. While the Department
25 of the Treasury is listed, the Internal Revenue Service is not. Thus, the Internal Revenue
26 Service is not an "executive department." Section 104 of 5 U.S.C. (1970) defines 27 "independent establishment" as "an establishment in the executive branch . . . which is not 28 an Executive Department, Military Department, Government Corporation, or part thereof . . .
29 ." Because the Internal Revenue Service is clearly a part of an executive department, the 30 Department of Treasury, the Internal Revenue Service does not meet the definition of an 31 "independent establishment." Finally, it is not and cannot be alleged that the Internal 32 Revenue Service is a government corporation within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. § 105. Thus, 33 the Internal Revenue Service is not an "agency" for the purpose of § 2000e-16.

34 On the basis of our analysis of the statutory language, which analysis parallels that of 35 Stephenson v. Simon, 427 F.Supp. 467 (D. D.C. 1976), we conclude that plaintiff incorrectly
36 named the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service as a defendant in this employment
37 action. The only proper defendants in such actions are the heads of a "department, agency, or a 38 unit" within the meaning of § 2000e-16. The proper defendant was not named in this action.
39 Adherence to the statute's requirements is mandatory, and we are neither authorized nor 40 inclined to ignore its mandate.

43 In "United States Answer and Claim", filed on November 18, 1993, U.S. Attorney, Betty H. Richardson verified for the 44 public record that the IRS is not an agency of the U.S. Government in her response at ¶ 4 as follows:

45 "The United States of America, through undersigned counsel hereby responds to the numbered 46 paragraphs of plaintiffs complaint as follows:

47 ¶4. Denies that the Internal Revenue Service is an agency of the United States Government. .

10 Since the IRS is not an agency within the United States Government, the DOJ has no apparent powers of attorney to 11 represent the IRS in any federal court. The responsibility of the Department of Justice is to prosecute individuals for 12 violation of the tax code (not "law", but "code"). Their authority is derived from 28 CFR §0.70, which you can read for 13 yourself at:

14 <http://squid.law.cornell.edu/cgi-bin/get-cfr.cgi?TITLE=28&PART=0&SECTION=70&TYPE=TEXT>

15 The U.S. Attorney Manual, Section 6-1.000 describes their lawful role in tax prosecutions, which is also available at our 16 website at:

17 <http://famguardian.org/Publications/USAttyManual/title6/title6.htm>

18 The Department of Justice prosecutes tax crimes using a document called the Department of Justice, Tax Division, 19 Criminal Tax Manual. The 1994 version of this document is posted on our website in its entirety for you to read and 20 examine at <http://famguardian.org/>. The IRS relies on the Department of Justice to:

- 21 1. Decide whether a particular tax case should be litigated.
22 2. Institute the litigation.
23 3. Criminally prosecute against tax crimes which they have delegated authority to prosecute.

24 If you examine the U.S. Attorney's Manual, the Department of Justice has NO delegated authority to prosecute tax crimes
25 involving U.S. citizens. Here is the section from their manual dealing with their authority to prosecute tax crimes involving

27 U.S. Attorney's Manual

6 interference with an officer or employee acting under the internal revenue laws (but not 7 omnibus clause); and unauthorized mutilation, removal or misuse of stamps. See 28 C.F.R. Sec.

18 powers, or functions imposed upon, or vested in, the Department of Justice, or any officer
19 thereof, by law existing on May 10, 1934.

20 QUESTION FOR DOUBTERS: Do you see anything in the above authority of the DOJ relating to prosecuting tax crimes
21 involving any of the following? We don't!:

- 22 1. Tax evasion of income taxes (26 U.S.C. §7201)
23 2. Frivolous returns (26 U.S.C. §6702)
24 3. Willful failure to file (26 U.S.C. §7203)

25 You can confirm the conclusions of this section for yourself on the Internet. Section 9-4.139 of the Department of Justice, 26 U.S. Attorney's Manual (USAM) found on the DOJ website at:

27 http://www.usdoj.gov/usao/eousa/foia_reading_room/usam/title9/4mcrm.htm#9-4.139

28 has a listing of all of the statutes within the Internal Revenue code and the specific agency that has "investigative 29 jurisdiction" for that statute. The agency with "investigative jurisdiction" is the agency responsible for enforcing a specific 30 statute. All of the criminal provisions of the Internal Revenue Code are found in sections 7201 through 7209 of the Internal 31 Revenue Code. In order to have investigative jurisdiction, an agency must write an implementing regulation that then 32 creates the authority and the procedure to enforce a specific criminal provision upon a specific tax under the Internal 33 Revenue Code. For instance, if there were an implementing regulation written by the IRS for Willful Failure to File for 34 Subtitle A income taxes, the regulation number would be 26 CFR §1.7203, but there is no such regulation! There are no
35 implementing regulations for any tax crimes for Subtitle A income taxes. The consequence is that there is no agency with 36 "investigative jurisdiction" to enforce the criminal provisions of the Internal Revenue Code against anyone other than the 37 government's own employees and officers. This conclusion is exhaustively proven by our memorandum of law below:

38 Federal Enforcement Authority Within States of the Union, Form #05.032
39 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

38 The org chart for the IRS also confirms that the IRS is NOT an enforcement agency because it does not fall under the 39 Undersecretary for Enforcement within the Department of the Treasury, as shown below:

<http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Evidence/OrgAndDuties/TreasuryOrg.pdf>

Below was the entry under 26 U.S.C. §7201-7209 found within section 9-4.139 of the USAM as of February 2002, showing who has investigative authority for tax crimes under the Internal Revenue Code, repeated here for your benefit:

Table 2: Agencies with investigative jurisdiction as of February 2002

Statute	Criminal Division Section	Telephone #	Agency with Investigative Jurisdiction
7201-7209	All		None

This is a tacit admission by our government that no agency may enforce the criminal provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, which is another way of saying that no one is liable to pay this tax because it is in fact a donation. If the IRS or the DOJ do investigate crimes related to the Internal Revenue Code without the above authority or an implementing regulation, then they are acting unlawfully and have exceeded the authority delegated to them by the U.S. codes and the regulations that implement them which are written by the Secretary of the Treasury. They can be prosecuted for libel and any number of crimes if their illegal action causes you any kind of injury or expense.

Subsequent to the writing and publication of this section, the Department of Justice rewrote the above entry in their table. Sometime between February 2002 and July 2005, the entry was changed to read:

Table 3: Agencies with investigative jurisdiction as of July 2005

Statute	Criminal Division Section	Telephone #	Agency with Investigative Jurisdiction
7201-7209	All		I.R.S.

The above entry is fraudulent, because:

1. The same Department of Justice admitted that the IRS is NOT an agency of the federal government. See:

<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Evidence/USGovDeniesIRS/USGovDeniesIRS.htm>

The reason the IRS is not an agency of the federal government is that it isn't carrying out a constitutional function within the Union states and therefore it is an independent creation of Congress that only has jurisdiction over matters INTERNAL to the federal zone, as is shown throughout the Tax Fraud Prevention Manual, Form #06.008, Chapter 7. That is why they are called the INTERNAL Revenue Service to begin with. Even the IRS identifies itself NOT as an "agency", but a "bureau". See their document 7233 at the link below. Search for the word "bureau" and you will see what we mean:

2. There are not implementing regulations published in the Federal Register authorizing enforcement of I.R.C. Subtitle A against private persons in states of the Union. The only people the IRS can enforce against are federal instrumentalities in the District of Columbia, according to 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\) and 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\), who are the only groups that can be the target of penalties absent said publication.

Therefore, the DOJ is LYING in the new version U.S. Attorney's Manual above, and they know it, because a U.S. Attorney basically admitted as much in the link above.

The DOJ's website confirms the fact that the IRS is not a federal agency by correctly providing the lawful definition of "agency" on its website.²⁹ It is presumed that "only" the Chief Counsel to the IRS (with the proper lawful delegation

²⁹ See <http://www.usdoj.gov/oip/1974definitions.htm#agency> for definition of "agency" as listed thereon as: "any Executive department, military department, Government corporation, Government controlled corporation, or other establishment in the executive branch of the [federal] Government (including the Executive Office of the President), or any orders), as the Assistant Counsel to the Secretary of the Treasury under 31 U.S.C. §301(f)(2), has any lawful authority to represent the IRS in a federal territorial court. However, the DOJ 'does' have Congressional legislative authority to represent bona-fide federal agencies in appropriate courts. (See 28 U.S.C. §547)

On 3/16/08 the DOJ's website at:

specifically listed the Act of Congress that created the Office of Attorney General as the "Judiciary Act of 1789, ch. 20, sec. 35, 1 Stat. 73, 92-93 (1789)", and that "Congress passed the Act to Establish the Department of Justice, ch. 150, 16 Stat. 162 (1870) setting up as "an executive department of the government of the United States" with the Attorney General as its head." Why then does this information NOT appear with regards to the Internal Revenue Service as a department of the United States government on any website?? BECAUSE IT WAS NEVER ESTABLISHED AS A GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY!!!

13. What Congress Says About the IRS

The most fascinating and impassioned debate about taxes we have found appears in the Congressional Record and was presented by Congressman Reeves of New York on June 2, 1870. Below is his very lucid definition of Congress' authority to tax within states of the Union, and why the mis-enforcement and mis-representation of the income tax laws by the IRS is not authorized by the Constitution. We have highlighted the important parts to emphasize them:

Income tax.
IN THE House OF REPRESENTATIVES,
June 2, 1870,

On the bill (H.R. No. 2015) to reduce internal taxes, and for other purposes.

Mr. REEVES. Mr. Speaker, I desire, in as brief a manner as possible, to state some considerations which constrain me to vote for the motion of my colleague [Air. MCCARTHY] to strike out the provisions of this bill relating to the income tax. Having on yesterday voted to reduce this tax from five to three per cent., I am unwilling to let that vote stand open to the inference that I approve the principle of such a tax, and merely favor its reduction to a lower figure from prudential or political motives.

I oppose its theory and its practice, its principle as well as its policy, and shall so vote. The main controlling reason that sways my judgment is one to which comparatively little attention, incidental allusion only, has been given in the discussion on either side of this question, as, indeed, unhappily seems to be the case with many other questions that come before this House. It relates to the constitutional power of Congress to enact such a law. The fact that it was enacted by a previous Congress, and has continued in force from that time to this, annually extorting vast sums of money from the pockets of "a favored few," whom the caprice of fortune happened to have endowed with a surplus of filthy lucre over and above an arbitrary limit, and with the rare honesty to tell the truth when pressed in the close embrace of the internal revenue's "Black Maria," does not in the least remove this constitutional difficulty, does not confer on the present Congress the smallest modicum of new power, and does not in any degree lessen the duty incumbent on all honest legislators to carefully examine the warrant and measure of the power they are invited to exercise. We have before us in the pending bill provisions for reenacting and enforcing the income tax substantially in the same form and upon the same basis as when it was first created by the fiat of Congress.

independent regulatory agency." 5 U.S.C. §552a(1) (incorporating 5 U.S.C. §552(f) (2000), which in turn incorporates 5 U.S.C. §551(1) (2000)).

1 The increase in the amount of exemption from ten to fifteen hundred dollars, which is the
2 only really new feature in this bill, while it diminishes the number of those upon whom the law
3 takes effect, does not alter or affect the principle or lack of principle involved in its original
4 enactment. If from the first it was a usurpation, void of any constitutional authority, it
5 remains just the same now, for the Constitution has not in the interim been " amended" so as 6 to bestow on Congress any new grant of power in respect to taxation. What, then, did and 7 does the Constitution provide touching this vital matter of laying and collecting taxes, this 8 supreme power over the purse of the people, second only in the attributes of delegated 9 authority to that control over the lives of the people which results from the undoubted right to 10 declare war and conclude peace ? Does the Constitution authorize Congress to levy a tax on 11 incomes?

12 I maintain that it does not; and I am persuaded that had this question been fairly presented to 13 the Supreme Court of the United States, judicially constituted, it would have been definitely 14 settled in the negative. What says the Constitution upon the subject of taxation? There are 15 but four places in the Constitution, and none in the articles of amendment thereto, where the 16 subject of taxation is treated, namely, clause three of section two of article one; clause one of 17 section eight of article one; clauses four and five of section nine of article one; and clause
18 two of section ten of article one. A careful analysis and comparison of these provisions leaves
19 no doubt on my mind that the existing tax on incomes, which it is proposed to reenact, does 20 not fall within the enumerated or clearly-implied powers of Congress, and is therefore 21 absolutely void. Let us examine these various provisions of the Constitution in the order in 22 which they stand in that instrument.

23 The third clause of section two of the first article reads as follows:

24 "Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the 25 several States which may be included within this Union according to 26 their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the 27 whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term
28 of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other 29 persons.

30 The rest of the clause relates to the mode of taking the census, &c. This is an affirmative and 31 peremptory regulation of the mode of levying direct taxes, and commands that they shall in 32 all cases be apportioned among the States according to population. Section eight, which 33 specifies the particular powers of Congress, the primary powers from which secondary ones
34 are implied, under the provision that Congress shall have the right "to make all laws which 35 shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers," in its first 36 clause says:

37 "To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises; to pay the debts
38 and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United 39 States; but all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout 40 the United States."

41 This is an explicit limitation as to duties, imposts, and excises, that their operation shall be 42 uniform throughout the country, and the reason that the word " taxes" does not occur in the 43 limitation. as it does in the grant of power to lay and collect, is manifestly because of the 44 distinction already made between direct and indirect taxes, the former of which had been 45 ordered to be apportioned " among the several States" according to population, while the 46 latter alone were to be made "uniform throughout the United States."

47 Duties are charges laid upon goods exported, imported, or consumed; imposts 48 are charges laid upon products of industry, and are generally applied only to 49 commodities when imported into a country; and excises are charges laid upon

1 franchises or licenses to carry on particular lines of trade or branches of 2 business. Congress has the clear constitutional right to lay and collect
3 charges of these sorts; but if it does so the law must have a uniform operation
4 in all the States; there must be no exceptional privileges to one section, no 5 favoritism to one class; all sections and all classes must share alike in the 6 burdens as well as the benefits of the General Government. Congress also 7 has, under this same clause, an equally clear right to "lay and collect taxes," 8 meaning by that significant little word, "direct" taxes, for no other are 9 referred to in the Constitution; but it is bound to see that such taxes,
10 whenever laid and collected, shall be "apportioned among the several States 11 ac-cording to their respective numbers."

13 in its fourth clause ordains :

17 of the second section, before referred to, and makes it absolutely certain that no direct tax can 18 be levied by Congress except in pro-portion to population. Clause five of section nine forbids
19 Congress from levying a tax or duty "on any article exported from any State." Clause two of 20 section tea prohibits the State from laying "any imposts or duties on imports or exports, 21 except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws;" and also from 22 levying any "duty of tonnage."

24 they severally or collectively authorize Congress today a tax on incomes?
25 What kind of a tax is it ? If a direct tax, within the meaning of the 26 Constitution, it must be apportioned according to population. Is it thus 27 apportioned? Nobody so pretends. A reference to the last published report of the 28 Commissioner of Internal Revenue will demonstrate that it was not apportioned according to 29 population. From that suggestive document it appears that the State of New York paid on 30 account of the income tax for the year 1868 the sum of $10,726,769 21, while the State of Ohio
31 paid for the same period $2,039,588 99. By the census of 1860 New York had a population of 32 3,880,735, while Ohio had a population of 2,339,511.

33 Assuming that this income tax had been apportioned according to population, and that the 34 amount collected from the people of Ohio was in just accordance with the unit of 35 apportionment, whatever that might be, then the amount levied upon the people of New York
36 should have been less than three and a half millions instead of almost ten and three quarters 37 millions ; or, to take the reverse of the hypothesis, if the amount collected from the people of 38 New York was according to the unit of measurement, Ohio ought to have paid nearly six and a
39 half millions instead of a little over two millions. Similar analogies, or antitheses rather, yet
40 more striking than that afforded by this parallel between New York and Ohio, might he drawn 41 from the same full repertory of official testimony to the inequality, the injustice, and the utter 42 incompatibility of this tax with the provision of the Constitution that all direct taxes shall be 43 according to numbers; but it would be useless. No one contends that the income tax is 44 apportioned according to numbers, and no proofs are needed to show that it is not so 45 apportioned. It only remains to consider whether it is a direct tax within the meaning of the 46 Constitution.

47 To the determination of such a question no surer test can be applied than that 48 which is supplied by the Constitution itself, to wit: can the tax be apportioned

1 among the several States according to numbers? I maintain that it can and 2 ought to be so apportioned, if laid at all; and this appears to be clear from a 3 consideration of the important and most suggestive words among the 4 several States," in connection with and direct sequence to the words "
5 shall be apportioned." These words are evidently inseparable, and in 6 any complete view of the question must be taken together. Taking them 7 together, they can be construed in no other sense than as forming the 8 substantive proposition of the sentence, which is qualified as a whole, 9 and not in its separate parts, by the subsequent words "according to their 10 respective numbers." It follows, therefore, that any tax which is 11 susceptible of apportionment, not among individual citizens of the 12 States, but among the States themselves, in just proportion to their 13 respective population, is a direct tax, and must be so apportioned as the 14 Constitution directs.

15 Is the income tax of that character? The only ground for doubt is the element of uncertainty as 16 to the amount which such a tax may yield. Because the net income of the country cannot be 17 determined in advance, and because we could not tell beforehand what the tax arbitrarily
18 proposed to be assessed against that income would amount to, it seems to have been assumed 19 that the tax could not be apportioned according to population. If the Constitution provided for 20 an apportionment among individuals this would be true, and would constitute a valid defense of 21 the tax against any such objection; but we have seen that the apportionment must be "among 22 the several States," in the doing of which there would be found no impossibility and no serious
23 difficulty. All the data requisite for a fair, safe, and correct estimate of the income reasonably 24 certain to accrue from the active business and the invested wealth of the country are at hand,
25 and are sufficient to fix the aggregate revenue to be derived from that source. This done, the

27 If the maximum sum of $25,000,000 were to be raised under the head of a tax on incomes
28 the proportion which the population of any State bears to the whole population fixes the amount
29 to be collected from that State. Then, if we remit the collection to the States, abolishing the 30 Federal machinery now in use, each State will collect its share in whatever mode it may 31 prefer, and pay over to the Federal Treasury the whole sum assessed upon it, free from any 32 deductions on account of expense of collection-certainly a great saving over the present system,
33 which costs nearly or quite twenty-five per cent. This would be a truly equal and equitable, a
34 truly effective and economical method of direct taxation for Federal purposes; it would comply 35 strictly with the constitutional requirement ; it would exactly accord with the spirit and 36 intent of the framers of that instrument, whose great object was to devise a scheme of 37 Government the operation of which should, above every other attribute, bear equally upon all 38 the people of all the States.

39 Taxation, or the power of compelling the people to part with some of their possessions for the 40 purpose of being protected in the enjoyment of the remainder, was a subject which they 41 had pondered deeply and had mastered in all its comprehensive extent and bearing. All the 42 ordinary protection which organized society needs being afforded by the existing State
43 governments, they had only to provide means for enabling the Federal agency of the States to 44 perform its intended functions. This they did in the clauses of the Constitution which I
45 have cited. In my judgment no candid mind can examine those provisions and compare them 46 with the whole scope and body of the instrument without coming to the conclusion that the 47 power conferred on Congress to lay and collect taxes is both expressly and impliedly limited
48 to " direct" taxes ; that, in brief, the word tax, wherever it occurs in the Constitution, means
49 a "direct" tax, and that, as equality (the grand, distinguishing element of the Constitution)
50 could only be maintained by dividing the burdens it imposes among all the States according 51 to population, it was appointed so to be done in terms as explicit as could well be used.

1 No one then dreamed of spreading a network of Federal tax-gatherers
2 over the land more numerous and more wasting than the "swarm"
3 which the colonists complained had been sent from Great Britain to "
4 harass the people and eat out their substance ;" it was never 5 contemplated that Congress should lay its grasping hands on the 6 earnings of business or the gains of capital for any purpose whatever,
7 and certainly nobody dared imagine that, should such a bold stretch of 8 Federal authority ever be exercised, it would seek to execute itself 9 without regard to the clear directions of the very instrument on which 10 alone it could rely for its warrant.

11 I stop not now to discuss the flagrant injustice of a tax on the earnings of business, be they more 12 or less ; the inequality of a tax on the gains of accumulated capital which, how-ever fair and 13 just in theory, is incapable of being reduced to practical effect without inflicting gross
14 wrongs on individuals; the inquisitorial, odious, and tyrannical character of an income tax,
15 however apportioned and levied ; nor any of the other grave objections which have been so
16 well presented and illustrated by others. For me it is enough to be convinced that such a tax
17 is at variance with the spirit and letter of the Constitution. That view of the question once fixed
18 in my mind, I am concluded from any incidental consideration of advantages or disadvantages
19 that may attend the proposed measure. But one course lies before me, and that leads straight to 20 the vote I shall cast.

21 In this connection I only need to glance at another aspect of the question confirmatory of 22 the one I have already taken and susceptible of being put into the compact and concise 23 form of a syllogism whose cogency countervails the necessity for further argument.

24 Income is derived from two sources, earnings and invested capital. In either case, when 25 considered as a basis for taxation, it is inseparably associated with, and in greater or less part 26 is made up from the rents, gains, or profits of land. A tax on incomes is therefore, in 27 substance and in fact, a tax on land. There may be, as we know there are, individuals who do
28 not own a foot of land, and a tax on whose income would in no sense involve the idea of taxing 29 lands; but this can be said of a few only out of the mass of those whose incomes are subject
30 to tax; indeed a large, if not the largest, part of the taxed incomes in this country comes 31 from the rents, gains, or profits of land. Now, it has been distinctly and repeatedly held that 32 a tax on lands is a "direct" tax such as the Constitution requires to be apportioned "among 33 the several States," as much so as the capitation tax itself. Hence, the income tax, involving 34 as it inevitably does the principle of taxing lands, is a "direct" tax. Being a direct tax, it
35 must be apportioned as the Constitution commands. But it is not so apportioned.
36 Therefore the tax is unconstitutional, and should be immediately abrogated.

37 I know, Mr. Speaker, it may appear presumptuous for one little versed in the subtleties of 38 dialectics, much less in the maxims and canons of constitutional interpretation, to essay
39 an argument of this kind, based solely upon a construction of the Constitution. But I am
40 profoundly impressed with the belief that the great men who framed our Constitution 41 meant to make it so plain that even the most unlettered need not err as to its meaning, and 42 that one of its cardinal merits is this very fact that they did succeed in imbedding the 43 immortal principles of civil and religious liberty, which filled their own minds, in language at 44 once so simple, so perspicuous, so nervous, and so strong as could neither be washed away
45 by sophistry nor broken down by the weight of glosses and critical emendations.

46 It is in the light of this plain, common sense understanding of the Constitution that I have 47 attempted to explore its meaning with respect to the question of taxation. I also know
48 that it is unfashionable and unusual in this revolutionary period to even refer to a 49 document whose precepts, once sacred, have now become almost obsolete; that he who 50 avows devotion to the fundamental source of all power in a free government, the will

1 of the people embodied in a written constitution, is too apt to be stigmatized as 2 obstructive, unprogressive, old-fogyish, or by still harsher terms ; that partisan
3 malevolence even sees " disloyalty" in a text and "treason" in a paragraph from the 4 grand gospel of our American freedom.

35 14. Name of "IRS" Didn't Come from Any Law. It was MADE UP

36 In 1972, an Internal Revenue Manual ("IRM") 1100 was published in both the Federal Register and the Cumulative
37 Bulletin; see 37 Fed Reg. 20960, 1972-2 Cum. Bul. 836. On the very first page of this statement published in the bulletin,
38 the following admission was made. (We have emphasized the significant sections):

39 "(3) By common parlance and understanding of the time, an office of the importance of the 40 Office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue was a bureau. The Secretary of the Treasury in his 41 report at the close of the calendar year 1862 stated that "The Bureau of Internal Revenue has 42 been organized under the Act of the last session...." Also it can be seen that Congress had 43 intended to establish a Bureau of Internal Revenue, or thought they had, from the act of March
44 3, 1863, in which provision was made for the President to appoint with Senate confirmation a
45 Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue 'who shall be charged with such duties in the bureau
46 of internal revenue as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, or as may be 47 required by law, and who shall act as Commissioner of internal revenue in the absence of that

1 officer, and exercise the privilege of franking all letters and documents pertaining to the office
2 of internal revenue.' In other words, 'the office of internal revenue' was 'the bureau of internal
3 revenue,' and the act of July 1, 1862 is the organic act of today's Internal Revenue Service."
4 [Federal Register and the Cumulative Bulletin; see 37 Fed Reg. 20960, 1972-2 Cum. Bul. 836;

6 OrgAndFunctions.pdf]

7 This statement, which appears again in a similar publication appearing at 39 Fed. Reg. 11572, 1974-1 Cum. Bul. 440, as
8 well as the current IRM 1100, essentially admits that Congress never created either the Bureau of Internal Revenue, or the 9 Internal Revenue Service. To conclude that "it can be seen that Congress had intended to establish a Bureau of Internal 10 Revenue, or thought they had" (see IRM 1111.2 - Organic Act) (Emphasis added) - is an admission that even the 11 government itself cannot find anything whatsoever which actually created either agency. The only office created by the act
12 of July 1, 1862, was the Office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (not the Commissioner of Internal Revenue 13 Service); neither the Bureau of Internal Revenue, nor the or an "Internal Revenue Service" was created by any of these 14 acts.

15 We have no doubt that, when the employees of the "Internal Revenue Service", and, perhaps others, were researching the 16 origins of the so-called agency so that this statement could be included in the IRM 1100, that these employees and other
17 people must have performed a very thorough and exhaustive investigation. We are sure that the position of the "Internal 18 Revenue Service" regarding how the alleged "Internal Revenue Service" came into being is the best that could be written 19 under these circumstances.

20 However, besides the problem that these acts simply did not create either the "Bureau of Internal Revenue" or the "Internal 21 Revenue Service", there exists the fact that these acts were repealed by the adoption of the Revised Statutes of 1873.
22 Therefore, it would appear that your "agency" has never actually been created by any act of Congress. This is obviously a 23 serious flaw, and creates some valid and serious legal problems.

24 Furthermore, we have discovered the following: There was an entity known as the "Bureau of Internal Revenue" which was 25 renamed "Internal Revenue Service", as revealed by Department of Treasury Order 150-06, dated July 9, 1953, (see below)
26 and further, by Treasury Decision 6038, entitled "Change of Nomenclature". However, an examination of the General
27 Records of the Department of the Treasury (Record Group 56) 1789-1990, 56.1, Administrative History, from the National 28 Archives and Record Administration reveals that no agency/entity called "Bureau of Internal Revenue" is listed in the 29 "Former administrative units of the Treasury Department". In addition, the National Archives and Record Administration
30 states:

31 "The Tax Act of 1862 authorized a permanent internal revenue establishment, the Office of the 32 Commissioner of Internal Revenue, which supervised a network of district collectors and 33 assessors and other field agents, and which was informally known as the Bureau of Internal 34 Revenue. It was formally redesignated the IRS, 1953." (Emphasis added.)

35 "Informally known" means that no such agency was ever statutorily created, and that an "informally known" nickname was 36 renamed ("redesignated") "IRS" in 1953.

37 We have also located the following documents: 27 CFR §201, which is entitled "Short title", is cited as the "Federal 38 Alcohol Administration Act." In § 201, under HISTORY: ANCILLARY LAWS AND DIRECTIVES, is found the 39 following:

40 "Transfer of functions:

41 Federal Alcohol Administration and offices of members and Administrator thereof were 42 abolished and their functions directed to be administered under direction and supervision of 43 Secretary of Treasury through Bureau of Internal Revenue [now Internal Revenue Service] in 44 Department of Treasury, by Reorg. Plan No. 3 of 1940 which appears as 5 USCS § 903 note...
45 The Department of the Treasury Order 221 of July 1, 1972, established the Bureau of Alcohol,
46 Tobacco and Firearms and transferred to it the alcohol and functions of the Internal Revenue
47 Service." (Emphasis added.)

1 The last sentence of the above section clearly states that "the functions" of the Internal Revenue Service were "transferred"
2 to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms when the BATF was established. The term used in this cite is "the 3 functions", not "some of the functions", or "certain functions", or any other term which would imply a limited transfer of
4 specific, limited functions. The use of the all-inclusive term "the functions" thus implies that all functions of "IRS" were
5 transferred to BATF upon BATF's establishment. If all of the functions" of "IRS" were transferred to BATF upon BATF's
6 establishment, then which specific "functions" does "IRS" handle at present, if any?

7 The Treasury's website at:

<http://www.treasury.gov/education/duties/bureaus/irs.shtml>

8 can therefore only be meant to intentionally deceive the public for illicit purposes, for Congress did NOT create a
9 Bureau of Internal Revenue in 1862, or later! It also should be noted that on the same website can be found: "the Bureau
10 of Internal Revenue was reorganized in 1953 and renamed the Internal Revenue Service", but what is not mentioned is that 11 the renaming was performed by a mere stroke of a pen by Secretary of the Treasury, G.K. Humphrey, who authored
12 Treasury Order No. 150-06 "without" the consent or delegated authority of Congressional through statutory enactment to 13 support the unchallenged (illegal) maneuver. Humphrey intended to turn a pure trust of either the Philippines (Trust #2-14 internal revenue) or the pure trust of Puerto Rico (Trust #62-Internal Revenue) into a department within the Department
15 of the Treasury without the Legislature's statutory backing. The records are well hidden, which makes

17 Also in 31 U.S.C. §1321, the list of Trust Funds maintained by the Treasury, we have found the following: Section 1321(2)
18 and 1321(62) are named respectively as follows:

19 "(2) Philippine special fund (internal revenue).

20 (62) Puerto Rico special fund (Internal Revenue)."

21 Again, we find a reference to the Philippines (and Puerto Rico - see below, 27 CFR §250.11), with the words "internal 22 revenue" (and "Internal Revenue") used to define the Philippines and Puerto Rico respectively. And the spelling and 23 capitalization of the two terms is the only thing which indicates which is the Philippine and which the Puerto Rico special 24 fund.

<http://www.atf.gov/about/atfhistory.htm>

*"The commissioner's annual report for 1877 refers to his office as the Bureau of

25 Then on 6 June 1972 yet another Treasury Order (#120-01) was issued by yet another stroke of a pen by then
26 Acting Secretary Walker, and included the alleged authority of Reorganization Plan No. 26 of 1950, which (illegally)
27 established the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BATF) without Congressional statutory enactment for support
28 of this underhanded maneuver, to include the BATF under the authority of Internal Revenue Service. Walker assigned
29 certain sections of the IRC of 1954 and the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (27 U.S.C. §8) to the new BATF. But the 30 BATF had been ruled unconstitutional in the states of the Union in 1935 because prohibition had been repealed by the 21st
31 Amendment. But through a series of complicated and perplexing maneuvers obviously designed to obfuscate the truth,
32 transferred all such (illegal) authority right back to the IRS. See Federal Register, Volume 41, Number 180, of Wednesday, 33 September 15, 1976 for this:

1 “The term ‘Director, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division’ has been replaced by the 2 term ‘Internal Revenue Service’.”

3 What the above makes clear is that "Internal Revenue Service" is, at least in this case, simply another name - an alias, or, as
4 the Federal Register clearly states, a "term" - for the term "Director, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division", which is 5 itself (as stated) a term, and not an agency which Congress has ever created.

6 15. If not an organization within the U.S. Department of the Treasury, then what 7 exactly is the IRS?

8 The IRS appears to be a collection agency for foreign banks, operating out of Puerto Rico under color of the Federal 9 Alcohol Administration, which was declared unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court in the case of U.S. v. Constantine, 10 296 U.S. 287 (1935).

11 The United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit has identified a second “Secretary of the Treasury” as a man by the 12 name of Manual Diaz-Saldana. See 27 CFR §26.11 and Used Tire International, Inc. v. Manual Diaz-Saldana, docket
13 number 97-2348, September 11, 1998.

14 When all the evidence is examined objectively, IRS appears to be a money laundering, extortion racket, and conspiracy to 15 engage in a pattern of racketeering activity, in violation of 18 U.S.C. §1961 et seq. (RICO). Think of Puerto RICO
16 (Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act); in other words, it is an organized crime syndicate.

17 The Internal Revenue Service entered into a "service agreement" with the U.S. Treasury Department [See: Public Law 94-
18 564; Legislative History, pg. 5967; Reorganization Plan No. 26] and the Agency for International Development, pursuant to 19 Treasury Delegation Order No. 91. The Agency For International Development is an International paramilitary operation
20 [See: Department Of The Army Field Manual, (1969) FM 41-10, pgs. 1-4, Sec. 1-7(b) & 1-6, Section 1-10(7)(c)(1), 22
21 U.S.C.A. §284], and includes such activities as "Assumption of full or partial executive, legislative, and judicial authority
22 over a country or area." [See: FM 41-10, pg. 1-7, Section 110(7)(c)(4)] also see, Agreement Between The United Nations
23 And The United States Of America Regarding The Headquarters Of The United Nations, Section 7(d) & (8), 22 U.S.C.A.
24 §287 (1979 Ed.) at pg. 241. It is to be further observed that the "Agreement" regarding the Headquarters District of the 25 United Nations was NOT agreed to [See: Congressional Record - Senate, December 13, 1967, Mr. Thurnond], and is 26 illegally in the Country in the first instant.

27 The International Organizational intents, purposes, and activities include complete control of "Public Finance" i.e. "control,
28 supervision, and audit of indigenous fiscal resources; budget practices, taxation. expenditures of public funds, currency
29 issues, and banking agencies and affiliates." [See: FM 41-10, pgs. 2-30 through 2-31, Section 251. Public Finance] This of 30 course complies with "Silent Weapons For Quiet Wars" Research Technical Manual TM-SW7905.1, which discloses a
31 declaration of war upon the American people (See: pgs. 3 & 7), monetary control by the Internationalist, through 32 information etc., solicited and collected by the Internal Revenue Service [See: TM-S\7905.1, pg. 48, also see, 22 U.S.C.A.
33 §286f & Executive Order No. 10033, 26 U.S.C.A. §6103(k)(4)] and who is operating and enforcing the seditious
34 International program. [See: TM-S\7905.1, pg. 52] The 1985 Edition of the Department Of Army Field Manual, FM 41-
35 10 further describes the International "Civil Affairs" operations. At page 3-6 it is admitted that the A.I.D. is autonomous 36 and under direction of the International Development Cooperation Agency, and at pages 3-8, that the operation is 37 "paramilitary." The International Organization(s) intents and purposes was to promote, implement, and enforce a
38 "DICTATORSHIP OVER FINANCE IN THE UNITED STATES." [See: Senate Report No. 93-549, pg. 186]

39 It appears from the documentary evidence that the Internal Revenue Service Agents etc., are "Agents of a Foreign 40 Principal" within the meaning and intent of the "Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938." They are directed and 41 controlled by the corporate "Governor" of "The Fund" also known as "Secretary of Treasury" [See: Public Law 94-564,
42 supra, pg. 5942, U.S. Government Manual 1990/91, pgs. 480 & 481, 26 U.S.C.A. §7701(a)(11), Treasury Delegation Order
43 No. 150-10, and the corporate "Governor" of "The Bank" 22 U.S.C.A. §§286 and 286a, acting as "information service
44 employees [22 U.S.C.A. §611(c)(1)(ii)], and have been and do now "solicit, collect, disburse or dispense contribution [Tax
45 - pecuniary contribution, Black’s Law Dictionary 5th edition], loans, money or other things of value for or in interest of 46 such foreign principal 22 U.S.C.A. §611(c)(1)(iii), and they entered into agreements with a Foreign Principal pursuant to 47 Treasury Delegated Order No. 91 i.e. the "Agency For International Development." [See: 22 U.S.C.A. §611(c)(2)] The 48 Internal Revenue Service is also an agency of the International Criminal Police Organization and solicits and collects

1 information for 150 Foreign Powers. [See: 22 U.S.C.A. §263a, The United States Government Manual, 1990/91, pg. 385,
2 see also, The Ron Paul Money Book, pgs. 250-251] It should be further noted that Congress has appropriated, transferred,
3 and converted vast sums to Foreign Powers [See: 22 U.S.C.A. §262c(b)] and has entered into numerous Foreign Taxing
4 Treaties (conventions) [See: 22 U.S.C.A. 285g, 22 U.S.C.A. 287j] and other Agreements which are solicited and collected
5 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6103(k)(4). Along with the other documentary evidence submitted herewith, this should absolve any 6 further doubt as to the true character of the party. Such restrictions as "For the general welfare and common defense of the 7 United States" [See: U.S. Constitution (1787), Article 1, Section 8, Clause 1] apparently aren't applicable, and the 8 fraudulent rehypothecated debt credit will be merely added to the insolvent nature of the continual "emergency," and the 9 reciprocal social/economic repercussions laid upon present and future generations.

10 Among other reasons for lack of authority to act, such as a Foreign Agents Registration Statement, 22 U.S.C.A. 612 and 18
11 U.S.C.A. 219 & 951, military authority cannot be imposed into civil affairs. [See: Department Of The Army Pamphlet
12 27100-70, Military Law Review, Vol. 70] The United Nations Charter, Article 2, Section 7, further prohibits the U.N. from 13 "intervening in matters which are essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of any state" Korea, Viet Nam, Ethiopia,
14 Angola, Kuwait, etc., etc., are evidence enough of the "BAD FAITH" of the United Nations and its Organizations,
15 Corporations and Associations, not to mention the seizing of two daycare centers in the State of Minnesota by their agents,
16 and holding the children as collateral hostages for payment/ransom of their fraudulent, dishonored, rehypothecated debt
17 credit, worthless securities. Such is the "Rule of Law" "as envisioned by the Founders" of the United Nations. Such is 18 Communist terrorism, despotism and tyranny. ALL WERE AND ARE OUTLAWED HERE.

19 If you further investigate what agency the IRS does fall under, you will find that all IRS paychecks are paid and accounted 20 for out of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and not the Dept. of the Treasury. That's right: IRS agents work for the 21 Secretary of Agriculture. If you want to obtain delegation orders for IRS personnel, you will need to do a FOIA with the

23 <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Evidence/OrgAndDuties/USDAPaysIRS.pdf>

24 16. Conclusions

25 The facts put forth to this point confirm that the IRS possesses no lawful authority to show "Department of the Treasury"
26 on any of its outgoing mail for it is NOT a lawful federal agency or bureau therein. Thus, every mailing of this nature
27 constitutes (at least) one count of 'mail fraud' and other fraudulent enterprises. See 18 U.S.C. §§1341 – 'Frauds and 28 swindles'; 1342 – 'Fictitious name or address'; 1346 – 'Definition of "scheme or artifice to defraud"', and 1348 – 'Attempt
29 and conspiracy'; and 18 U.S.C. §1961-1968 – 'Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations (RICO) Act'. See also 31
30 U.S.C. §333 – "Prohibition of misuse of Department of the Treasury names, symbols, etc."

<http://www.treasury.gov/education/duties/bureaus/irs.shtml>

32 states that "the Bureau of Internal Revenue was established on July 1, 1862." This is obviously not true according to the 33 Supreme Court and this author's research of historical enactments of Congress.

34 What Congress did was to pass the "Internal Revenue Act", Ch. 119, 12 Stat. 432, in August of 1861 and that Act became
35 effective July 1, 1862. The Act did not create the Bureau of Internal Revenue, it imposed, among other taxes, an income tax 36 upon federal military officers and personnel and other federal workers to generate badly needed funds to support the 37 secession war effort. The tax imposed by the Act was an excise tax imposed upon the "use of" federal property. See 38 Section 86 of said Act for specifics on just who were the subjects of excise taxation by Congress.

39 It can safely be deduced from this quick overview of research information that the former BIR, the IRS and the BATF are 40 in fact one in the same entity. See 27 U.S.C. §201 at "Transfer of Functions". Absent an organic act by Congress
41 establishing the IRS and repealing of the BATF = no jurisdiction over non-federally employed Citizens.

42 The only logical conclusion to be gleaned from this research is, the IRS is an apparent (private) collection firm for the 43 federal reserve central bank (which most likely created one or both of the pure trusts) which itself is a private for-profit

1 corporation. Some people argue that this corporation was incorporated in Delaware. The evidence below from the

SEDM Exhibit #08.006
<http://sedm.org/Exhibits/ExhibitIndex.htm>

3 And any argument that the IRS' performs a vital governmental function for the collection of needed government tax
4 revenues immediately fails, for the government of the United States does NOT receive any of the tax revenues collected
5 from federal income taxes. All such revenues go directly to the federal reserve central bank for interest on the alleged debt.

6 For in-depth research as to just where income tax collection receipts ends up, see "War On Waste: President's Private
7 Sector Survey on Cost Control", i.e., Grace Commission Report, New York, MacMillan Publishing Co., 12 Jan 1984 –
8 ISBN 0-02-074660-1. The report announced with specificity just what happens to the income tax collections as follows:

9 "With two-thirds of everyone's personal income taxes wasted or not collected, 100 percent of 10 what is collected is absorbed solely by interest on the Federal debt and by Federal Government
11 contributions to transfer payments. In other words, all individual income tax revenues are gone
12 before one nickel is spent on the services which taxpayers expect from their Government."*

13 We hope that you have learned by reading this article that you must be careful in dealing with the government. The 14 American People would be served in good stead if they carefully studied the foregoing facts, and shared them with their 15 friends, family, and colleagues. The future of our American Republic depends upon educating the American People about 16 the deceptive, predatory, and disingenuous nature of the United States Government. Equally important, in light of the daily
17 sacrifices being made by the Men and Women of our courageous Armed Forces, the interests of the American People
18 would also be well served if they listened to and took heed of the warnings issued by the United States Supreme Court
19 when it said:

21 ascertained that he who purports to act for the government stays within the bounds of his

9 “. . . Whatever other concerns should shape a particular official’s actions, certainly one of
11 [Owen v. City of Independence, 445 U.S. 622 (1980)]

13 “. . . But the power of the state [i.e. any government] in that respect is not [271 U.S. 583, 594]
14 unlimited, and one of the limitations is that it may not impose conditions which require the 15 relinquishment of constitutional rights. If the state may compel the surrender of one 16 constitutional right as a condition of its favor, it may, in like manner, compel a surrender of all.
17 It is inconceivable that guaranties embedded in the Constitution of the United States may thus 18 be manipulated out of existence. . .”
